Outside Civic Workers Strike May Be Long

By DAVE STOCK
Times City Hall Reporter

There is every indication the strike of outside civic workers will be lengthy. Although spokesmen for both sides indicated a willingness to day to meet with the other to discuss the situation, neither appeared ready to make the first move.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, who with

Ald. William Pinfold acted with City Manager Cecil Wyatt as the city's representatives in last-minute bargaining, said this afternoon he was "perfectly willing to meet with the union's representatives at any time; the sooner the better so far as I'm concerned." He said he felt Ald. Pinfold felt the same way.

Ed Duncan, secretary of the striking Civic Employees' Pro-fective-Association, said his side was willing to reopen talks as well.

It was apparent, however, that neither side was prepared to advance any different terms than they were last Wednesday when negotiations broke down. At that time, the city was prepared to pay five cents an hour increase and the union asked for seven.

MAYOR AWAY

A council meeting scheduled for 3:30 this afternoon to consider the situation was called off by Acting Mayor Frank Mulliner since an expected communication from Labor Minister Lyle Wicks was not received.

Ald. Mulliner, senior alderman, assumed the duties of mayor today as the mayor did not show up at City Hall this morning. His office said the mayor would not be back until Monday. It was subsequently learned the mayor set out from Shoal Harbor this morning aboard his yacht, "Yonder."

In the meantime, here are today's strike developments:

- City manager has written the striking union asking if it is willing to provide a bridge operator to work Johnson Street bridge two hours each morning and afternoon.
- The manager has taken no action on council's motion of Thursday, instructing him to hire outsiders to carry on essential services.
- TLC and CCL labor leaders say if the city does attempt to employ strikebreakers they will take joint protest action.
- There was a minor accident at Johnson Street bridge this morning.
- Labor Minister Lyle Wicks is keeping "mum" on the strike situation.

SHORT-SHIFT BASIS

Mr. Wyatt's move to have regular bridge operators work the Johnson Street span on a short-shift basis was done with council knowledge. Wednesday and today, the bridge was operated by a man provided by the

'BEHAVED LIKE ANIMALS'

Sect Leader Mauled in N.Y. As Mob Seeks $1 Handouts

NEW YORK (AP)—It is no trouble at all to give away money on New York streets. Five members of a California religious sect touched off a Times Square uproar Thursday when they began handing out $1 bills.

Accompanying the bills was a Biblical reminder that "the love of money is the root of all evil."

Even so, the white-robed members of the religious sect found out, New Yorkers still love the moo-la—and will even fight to get it if necessary. Hardly had Master Krishna Vanta slipped the first greenback to a startled passerby before he was besieged by a shouting, shouting horde of several hundred money-lovers.

For 10 minutes pedestrian traffic was tied up at Broadway and 42nd Street. "The people behaved like animals," said the master with a shudder after he had

Mendes-France To Drop Bidault In New Cabinet

New French Premier Guarantees War's End

PARIS (AP)—Pierre Mendes-France today set about organizing a new French government to deliver the Indo-China peace he has promised within a month. But his cabinet apparently will not include Foreign Minister Bidault, France's negotiator at the Geneva conference.

The National Assembly approved Mendes-France as premier early today after the 47-year-old Radical Socialist moderate outlined a three-point program, including a promise that he will reach an Indo-China settlement before July 20 or resign. The vote was 419 to 47, with 154 deputies abstaining.

THREE-POINT PROGRAM

The new premier offered his program as a three-stage project, leading off with the Indo-China peace. With that achieved, he said, he would:

1. Submit a "coherent and detailed program for economic recovery."
2. Attempt to reconcile the divisions within France on the European Defense Community Treaty to near West Germans in a European army. Of the six countries involved, France and Italy still must ratify it.
3. Bidault's absence from the new government appeared certain after his party, Mouvement Republicain Populaire, announced it would not take part in Mendes-France's cabinet. The MRP has held the foreign ministry almost continuously since the war. Robert Schuman, like Bidault a sparkplug of the fight to get EDC ratified, has alternated as foreign minister.

IWA Settles

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Thirty-two thousand coast woodworkers voted today to accept settlement terms in their dispute with lumber operators, assuring there will be no strike in the coast logging industry this year.

George Mitchell, district secretary-treasurer of the International Woodworkers of America, said the IWA voted to accept the terms by a 74 per cent majority vote in a secret ballot.

The union did not ask any general wage hike, but put forth demands for a "package deal" of improved working conditions and union security.

REDS ADMIT INVASION OF CAMBODIA AND LAOS

GENEVA (Reuters)—Communist China today admitted for the first time that Communist Viet Minh troops had invaded Laos and Cambodia, the two smaller Indo-China states.

Conference sources said that Chou En-lai, Communist Chinese prime minister and foreign minister, said at today's secret session of the Indo-China conference that during the course of the war foreign troops had been introduced by both sides.

Before today, the Communists had insisted that the fighting in these two states has been between "resistance" armies and the French Union forces.

Duke's Shouts Save Queen

Young Monarch Has Narrow Escape From Riding Into Low-Slung Wire

ASCOT, Eng. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth, riding a swiftly-galloping horse on the Ascot race track, just missed becoming involved in an accident this morning when she ducked at the last moment to avoid a low-hanging wire.

A telephone wire across the track had blown down to head level but was unnoticed when the Queen and other members of her party went for a ride before the start of today's races at Ascot.

The Duke of Edinburgh, riding ahead, saw the wire just in time and shouted to the Queen.

She said later she saw the Duke duck and did the same, drawing in her horse's reins and dropping low to pass safely under the wire.

"We were nearly all decapitated," the Queen laughed.

She smiled and said "I saw you duck and did the same."

The wire was a cable connecting a starting gate with a telephone van. It had sagged overnight.

The Queen laughed and made light of the incident.

Only a few workmen saw the Queen's close call.

F. D. Perkins, who was working on the tote board, gave this version of the incident:

"When the party was cantering back after the first gallop someone said 'good morning' and smiled up to us and we suddenly realized it was the Queen."

"We raised our hats and said good morning and watched."

"As the party was galloping past us a second time the Duke suddenly ducked, shouted and looked back to the Queen."

"Then we realized he had spotted the wire."

"The Queen went flat on her horse—as did the other riders who were galloping."

SERIOUS MISHAP
"I had the Duke not shouted his warning there might have been a serious accident, because when the Duke of Gloucester, who was only trotting, came along he had to raise the wire with his hand to ride under it."

Lord Porchester, riding behind the Queen, was quoted as saying: "What a tangle that could have been."

The riding party included the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and the Duke and Duchess of Beaufort. They were guests of the Queen at Windsor Castle. They and the Queen rode over the course an hour before the start of today's racing program.

The Queen—gaily dressed in a yellow silk scarf and tweed riding jacket and wearing fawn jodhpurs, took the whole thing as a joke.

A few hours later she was in the royal box to cheer her colt, Landau, to an easy win in the Rous Memorial Stakes.

Key Northwest Market Given Texas Firm

By TOM GOULD

B.C.'s industrial future was dealt a crippling blow today with the rejection by the U.S. Federal Power Commission of Westcoast Transmission Co.'s plan for piping natural gas from the Peace River area to the Pacific Northwest States serving B.C. en route.

The commission today authorized Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation to deliver gas to U.S. northwest markets from gas pools in Colorado and New Mexico.

The ruling ended two years of hearings in Washington, and came as a stunning blow to hopes of B.C. government and industrial leaders that Westcoast would get the nod.

There is no possibility, according to Westcoast officials, of bringing cheap natural gas from the Peace River to the lower mainland and Vancouver Island without the vital U.S. northwest market.

OIL SHARES PLUNGE

The bottom dropped out of speculative western oil shares on Vancouver stock exchange today.

Yankee Princess was cut in half, falling from 82 cents to 41 cents at noon. Van-Tor Explorations fell 22 cents, being traded at 17 cents at noon.

Pacific Petroleum, associated with the Westcoast Transmission project, dropped $4—from $10.25 at the opening to $6.25 at noon. Canadian Atlantic was off $1.75—from $5 to $3.25.

Premier Bennett has said the line would have brought B.C. "developments greater than anything since the Second World War."

For Westcoast, the pipeline rejection means the loss of $15,000,000, the amount the firm has spent in exploring the gas fields.

And millions of dollars in industrial expansion potential went down the drain with today's announcement. Major industrial firms planned separation plants in the Peace River area; refineries were on the drafting boards.

PAY FOR RAILROAD
Engineers had predicted the natural gas line would have enabled the PGE to pay for itself within 10 years.

Vote of Confidence To Churchill, Eden

British Commons Supports Geneva Policy, Endorses Sir Winston's Washington Trip

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Conservative Party backers gave him an unusual vote of confidence today, backing patient British policy at Geneva and endorsing his mission to Washington next week.

Conservative members of parliament made the rare gesture of introducing in Commons a motion of support of both Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

The resolution read: "That this House congratulates the Prime Minister and the foreign secretary on their action in journeying to the United States for consultation with the President; records its appreciation of the foreign secretary's tireless efforts at the Geneva conference to secure a just and peaceful settlement of the Far Eastern question; and reiterates its firm belief that close and continued Anglo-American co-operation is essential to the satisfactory solution of world problems."

WAS JUST ANOTHER BUGS BUNNY

Law Grabs Garden-Raiding Pet

The long arm of the law descended on a wayward rabbit and its owner was fined in city police court today because "... he did allow a rabbit to run at large."

The charge was laid by neighbours who said the hungry hare was feasting on their vegetable gardens.

In his defense, the bunny-owner told Magistrate H. C. Hall that he had built a proper hutch for the pet, "but the neighbours' children take it out." However, to solve the difficulty, the accused said he was sending the rabbit away today to a home in the country.

A minimum $2.50 fine was imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall under the city Poultry By-law which regulates the keeping of "poultry, rabbits and hares," which might "run at large."

JUST for the RECORD

WELL?! In Fort Worth, Tex., Sgt. Lester S. Hammerstein was an unwitting bigamist today.

Hammerstein, 43, divorced his first wife last October. Yesterday the second court of civil appeals set aside the decree.

In the meantime, Hammerstein had remarried.

NO FUTURE: In Brazil, Ind., "Madame Julia," a palmist, had to quit business because she failed to foresee her own future.

After the city issued her a license to practice, county officials informed her that there was a 1915 state law prohibiting fortune telling.

"Madame Julia" has demanded that the city return her license fee.

CRY WOLF!: In Jackson, Miss., police rushed to the scene when informed that a body had been found in a parked car.

The "body," however, turned out to be a "teen-age prankster" who had smeared catsup on his arm and climbed into the trunk of an auto leaving the gory-looking limb hanging outside.

The youth was given a stern lecture.

DECISION: In Camden, N.J., Sgt. George Haegle of the Delaware River port authority police department became a lieutenant by the mere flip of a coin.

Haegle and Sgt. Harry J. McFarlane agreed to flip a silver dollar for the promotion after authority members were unable to decide which one should be promoted.

The promotion means a $24 raise for Haegle.

BANQUET: In Tupper Lake, N.Y., Joe Maroun can have either fish or duck for dinner today.

While fishing in Kenkies Bay, Maroun caught a 32-inch northern pike that had swallowed a half grown black duck, weighing almost a pound.

Fanatic Says She Will Fight On for Country

Puerto Rica Will Be Free, Swears Lolita

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lolita Lberon, convicted with three men for wounding five congressmen but facing a lighter sentence, swore today that she will continue to fight for Puerto Rican independence from the United States.

"What I thought was the end may be the beginning," she replied from her cell to written questions from reporters.

"If all my blood had spilled it would have splashed away decadence and inertia. . . I hope no more of my people will have to die. My country is going to be free."

The slight, 34-year-old brunette was acquitted Thursday of five charges of intent to kill. She had been found guilty Wednesday of five counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Her three fellow-members of the radical nationalist party of Puerto Rica, Rafael Canel Miranda, 25, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28, were convicted Wednesday on all 10 counts.

Thus they face possible maximum penalties for 75 years in prison apiece, including concurrent sentences for intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon. Mrs. Lberon, convicted only on the latter charge, could get up to 50 years in prison.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff has not indicated when he will pass sentence, but this is expected within about a week.

10 Families Evacuated After Water Seeps Into Their Homes

KAMSACK, Sask. (BUP) — Low-lying towns and farms in the Assiniboine Valley faced a flood threat from the swollen Assiniboine River today.

About 10 families were evacuated after several inches of water swept through the first floors of their homes, and an estimated 1,000 acres of crop land was under water in the area 200 miles northeast of Regina.

Flood waters Thursday poured over a dam at the Kamsack power plant, flooding the surrounding area to a depth of more than 13 feet—only six inches less than the high recorded in a disastrous flood in 1923.

At Yorkton, Sask., almost isolated after heavy rains made highways impassable, municipal secretary Herbert Stein reported several small bridges washed away. He described the river valley as "one-quarter inundated."

ROADS WASHED OUT

The town of Arborfield, 90 miles east of Prince Albert, was completely cut off Thursday after rains washed out roads and the Canadian National Railways subdivision.

Diking began in the Assiniboine Valley at Brandon, Man., this morning. Bulldozers were rushed to the spot in an effort to prevent the general flooding which local officials said would occur if the river rose five more inches.

Worried city officials said there was no sign of a let-up in the river's steady rise. Heavy rain Thursday brought river waters up to 17 feet, one inch.

Prairie Field Work Halted As Heavy Rains Continue

WINNIPEG (CP)—Continued rains throughout the west during the last week have made field work impossible in most areas, the crop reports of the CPR and CNR said today.

Warm, dry weather is a must in all sections.

The CNR says little, if any, further wheat seeding will be attempted, and even coarse grains may have to be reduced in backward areas.

Surface water is evident on many farms in the Red River Valley and in a few districts in southern Saskatchewan. In some sections of northern Manitoba and northeastern Saskatchewan, significant reductions in acreage sown will be recorded, ranging from 15 to 40 per cent.

In more advanced districts, a small percentage of coarse grains and flax remain to be sown, but because of the late-

The recognized danger level is 17 feet six inches, but already the river has spilled over its banks in some low-lying areas. Meanwhile, continued heavy rains and floods were expected to knock a further million and a half acres off Prairie wheat acreage this year. A substantial decrease in coarse grains also was forecast.

H. E. Wood, an official of the Manitoba department of agriculture, said he would be "surprised if any farmers in Manitoba seed past the end of next week." Wood suggested that this year's glut of grains might make farmers concentrate on increasing their summer fallow, which would improve crop prospects for next year.

An official of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool said there would be some decrease in wheat acreage in northeast and east Saskatchewan because of heavy rains. He forecast a heavy drop in coarse grains.

Most experts believed that late planting, continuous wet, cool weather and actual flooding of fields in some areas would rule out the possibility of more than a normal wheat crop for the Prairies.

Floods Hit Saskatchewan Areas

The Weekes district of northern Saskatchewan has its worst flooding in 25 years. Heavy rain raised level of swollen streams and covered sections of recently-seeded crops. Farms were submerged after more than three weeks of heavy rain. Farmers built rafts to ferry livestock from barns isolated by floods in Weekes district, 170 miles northeast of Regina. (CP Photo.)

5 U.S. Air Force Men Believed Captured

SAIGON, Indo-China (CP)—The Communist Viet Minh rebels are believed to have kidnapped five U.S. Air Force technicians in Indo-China, the United States embassy announced here today.

Gen. John O'Daniel, chief of the U.S. military aid mission to Indo-China, flew to Tourane in central Viet Nam today to investigate the men's disappearance, the embassy said.

The five Americans have been missing since Monday. The U.S. Air Force sent 200 volunteer technicians to help the French maintain combat and transport planes in Indo-China for a duty tour of 120 days. The tour ends this month.

Israeli-Jordan Border Clash

TEL AVIV (Reuters)—Sporadic firing continued for nearly 17 hours during an Israeli-Jordan clash which started Thursday in the Tul-Karem border area, an Israeli army spokesman said today.

One Israeli soldier was wounded in the fight which, the spokesman said, began when rifle and machine-gun fire from Jordan territory was opened on an Israeli patrol on the Israel side of the border.

'WAS SEVERELY ILL' SAYS SIR EDMUND

CALCUTTA, India (Reuters)—Sir Edmund Hillary, arriving in Calcutta by train Thursday night, said he had been severely ill for a week during his expedition to 27,790-foot Mount Makalu, but did not think he had pneumonia.

"No one with pneumonia could have survived at those heights," he said.

The Everest conqueror's greatest concern is for James McFarlane, a member of his New Zealand expedition, who was injured in an accident at the end of the Barun Glacier. McFarlane is suffering from extensive frostbite of the fingers and toes, and some of them may have to be amputated.

Hillary indicated he has had enough of the Himalayas for a while.

"It is most unlikely that I shall return to the Himalayas next year. But I hope to return in 1956."

'Old Sweats' Denied Allowance Increases

OTTAWA (BUP) — Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent gave a blunt "no" answer today to renewed appeals for increases in the war veterans' allowances paid to "old sweats" of the First World War.

Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre), who urged yesterday that the government introduce amendments to WVA Act "even at this late date," asked Mr. St. Laurent if he would meet the unanimous wish of private members of the Commons and do so.

"The answer is no," Mr. St. Laurent said.

Veterans Affairs Minister Hughes Lapointe said last night that the veterans would continue to receive allowances of only $50 a month if single or $90 a month if married.

$500,000 Damage In Chicago Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Fire whipped through a five-story brick plant in Chicago's big stockyards today. Anthony Mullaney, assistant fire commissioner, estimated damage at "more than half a million dollars."

The flames broke out in an Armour and Co. animal food plant on the west side of the yards area.

An Armour spokesman said shortly before 10 a.m. the fire "seems pretty well under control."

No deaths or injuries were reported.

High Voltage

ALUMINUM CABLE from Canada was used in a Peruvian high-voltage power line, installed at altitudes of from 13,000 to 15,000 feet—the world's highest. Canada supplied not only the cable but also the technical assistance required on this record job. We imagine that aluminum's light weight was particularly appreciated by the llamas or whatever other beasts of burden were used to get the cable to the top.

In the rugged mountain country of British Columbia where Alcan's own huge Kitimat development is going on, the aluminum transmission lines used represent another record: they are the largest-diameter overhead power lines in the world. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Muddled, But Not Through

VICTORIA'S CITY COUNCIL, under Mayor Harrison, has made history—a melancholy history in which no resident may take pride.

The cloak of secrecy at the City Hall has been pulled aside to reveal the results of bumbling inefficiency which has produced the first civic strike in the capital's memory.

The strike of the outside workers will, of course, end. The city's concern, its immediate and pressing concern, must be to see that the work stoppage ends quickly. Too many vital services are affected to allow the process of attrition full play.

The reversion by the outside workers' union to its original demands must be taken as a gesture. These demands are too high—a point indicated by the union itself when it was prepared, at an earlier date, to take much less.

But the action of the workers is understandable. They have been treated in a way which has destroyed their confidence in the men, the elected representatives of the taxpayers, with whom they tried to negotiate. That seems the only sensible explanation of the attitude taken by the majority who voted to strike.

Why have they followed that course? Perhaps a recapitulation of developments leading up to the walk-out decision provides the explanation.

Late last year the union opened negotiations. It sought what amounts to parity with Vancouver in wage scales. That meant an average across-the-board wage increase of roughly 19 cents an hour.

There are very good arguments against applying the Vancouver scale to Victoria and the council representatives were justified in turning the proposal down. They recognize their responsibility to keep costs and taxes within bounds.

Some justification seemed to exist, too, for the council's refusal to go to arbitration, with a decision binding on both sides.

As the next alternative, the matter was placed in the hands of conciliators. They recommended a 3 per cent wage increase across the board, shorter hours for the Johnson Street bridge operators, an increase for garbage truck drivers and the payment by the city of half MSA costs.

The council rejected the recommendations. The union, after delaying its decision, moved to accept them.

Faced with the city's rejection the workers' representatives asked the union members if they wanted a strike vote. The membership said yes by a 202 to 19 poll.

While these developments took place, the council and inside staff continued negotiations for a new agreement, the inside staff suggesting arbitration and the council agreeing. The council then asked the outside workers if they would go to arbitration. By that time the outside staff had decided it had had enough and refused.

Last week the council, at a camera session, instructed the city manager to talk to both unions.

From those talks came a statement of minimum terms the outside workers would accept. Those terms called for a seven cent an hour across-the-board wage increase, half payment of MSA and adjustment of certain individual rates of pay in different departments.

The council countered with an offer of 2 per cent wage increase and payment of half the MSA costs. The counter-proposal was refused.

Last Tuesday the council expressed readiness to increase its offer to 3 cents an hour, half MSA payments and adjustment of working conditions for certain individuals in the service. This offer was fractionally above the conciliation board's recommendations (which the council had originally rejected), but was turned down by union members who apparently had lost faith in the council. The strike vote followed, was carried 126 to 103, and the men failed to return to work Thursday morning.

In the meantime settlement has been reached between the inside staffs and the council.

These are the main developments leading up to the strike now in progress—with one important omission.

When the city council struck its mill rate this year, it was set high enough to cover costs of wage increases deemed probable in 1954. In other words, the council by its budgetary provision indicated that it would meet the workmen on reasonable terms, but so fumbled the negotiations that men are now idle and vital services are tied up.

Members of the council negotiating committee say they cannot understand the rejection of the terms they have offered—terms they consider reasonable and slightly more favorable than those advanced by the conciliation board. Perhaps they cannot. But they should be able to understand loss of trust by the workers and the righteous indignation of a public which is angered and disgusted by the news that has emerged from under the city hall cloak.

Now it appears time for the council to discard secrecy and to try to win back the confidence of its employees and the public by straightforward and open action to end a strike that never should have begun.

Encouraging the Fall Fair Idea

THE PROPOSAL THAT Victoria re-establish its annual fall fair has been well received on an informal basis by members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. At the recent convention of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island, held in Parksville, Victoria spokesmen outlined some of the benefits such a revival would produce and the enthusiasm with which their comments have been received indicates support beyond this community.

Particularly notable is the attitude of Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich. Mr. Casey drew attention to formal action by his council a year and one-half ago when it gave approval to a scheme which would have included fairground and horse-racing facilities. Since Saanich seems the most feasible municipality in which to establish such a site, endorsement of the idea by its elected representatives furnishes an encouraging base from which to start.

Most recently the success of the Junior Chamber of Commerce home products fair has indicated public support of exhibitions. The latter function seems to have outgrown the accommodation available to it within the city itself. Should the junior group be joined by the senior in sponsoring a larger exposition, an effective agency would be virtually ready-made to proceed with organization.

The project is one to stimulate the interest and active support of this community's businessmen and agricultural groups.

Slow Boat to Eternity

THE ANNOUNCEMENT BY four adventurous gentlemen of the United States that they plan to travel on a seven-ton log raft from the west coast to Hawaii will strike a faint, quite faint, note of envy among a good many people.

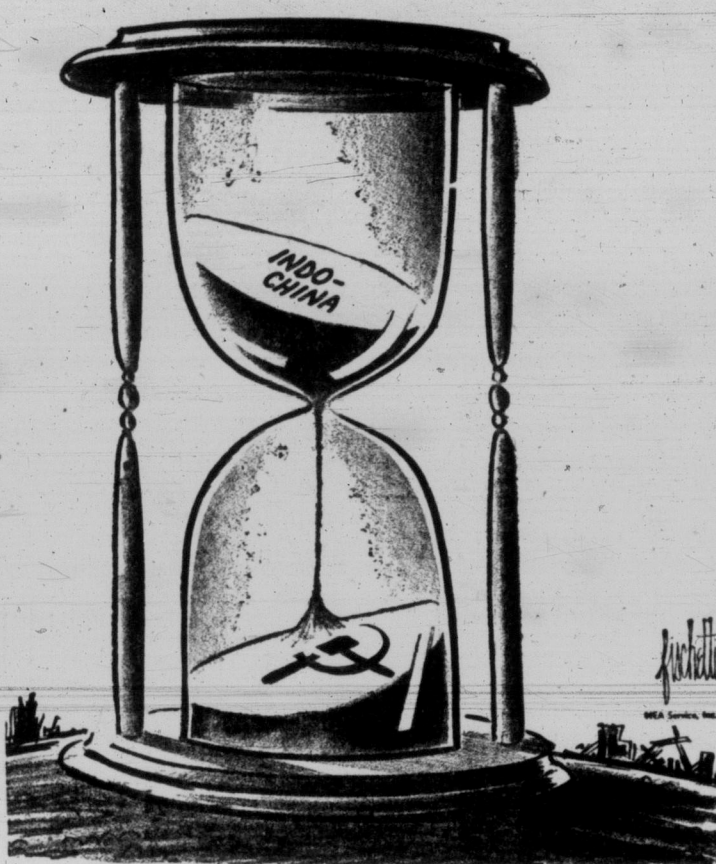

These are the days of the year, and this is a time in history, when just to get aboard a raft and float away from it all has an almost irresistible appeal. The saga of the Kon-Tiki, which undertook a similar voyage successfully, is still fresh in mind. The story became a best seller, indicating the universal appeal of such adventure.

After all, these adventurers are repeating, in a dramatic way, the same experience that befalls all human beings. We set out at birth to reach our goal, and although some hoist sails and others employ high-powered machines, the final destination of the vast majority of us is where the winds of adversity and the tides of opportunity inevitably wait us.

Along the way we pick up what sustenance we can, as the raft voyagers will attempt to gather their food from the sea; we enjoy such beauty as we are able, as the seafarers will relish the glory of the storm and the peace of the sea at night; we assemble such stores of knowledge and experience as we may, as the adventurers will record their observation of ocean life and human endurance.

But in the end the stories of the voyagers and the human individual must be much alike—a tale of a little courage and a little fear, a little love and a little hate, a little striving and a little despair, something of life and something of death, in the vast and trackless loneliness of the cosmos.

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

ONE of my daughters says she will be a lady-wrestler when she grows up. But at the moment she shows every sign of being a fire-bug. I don't think she plans to make a career of it. After all, there is no fame for a successful arsonist; even the insurance companies fail to identify him as the author of his best blazes. An arsonist gets a good press only when he is a failure. But at the moment my daughter certainly steals too many matches. She can't be using them all for lighting cigarettes or even pipes. She is probably lighting little bonfires without a permit, and without much caution. I hope she won't start lighting bonfires in the house on a rainy day.

THERE is one cheerful note around here, however. For ages I kept hidden from her the fact that our house and furniture are insured. I felt that if she thought they could be replaced without much cost, she would ignite them frivolously. I was horrified when she discovered our fire insurance policy and began reading it. But little did I know. That policy scared the wits out of her, such as they are... let us say it scared the halfwits out of her. You see, my particular underwriters use an old form for their policy, and it begins: "In the name of God, amen." My daughter feels that in some way it has threatened her with all manner of curses. For almost a week I have found no matches in the pockets of her garment which is ominously called a blazer.

WELL-BRED

I KNOW another little girl who has been more carefully brought up. The other day she went to town to pass some tests for her Golden Hand in the Brownies, before "flying up" into the Guides. By the way, four women were running these tests, and I felt sorry for them. There were 120 Brownies attempting the tests, which meant that each of these four women had to sample 30 puddings and 30 pots of tea and listen to 30 frightful versions of God Save the Queen, and so on, for hour after hour. But I felt sorrier for the woman who was giving a fire-lighting test to the well-bred little girl.

The good little girl refused to take a match in her hand. Her mummy had told her never to touch a match. "Have you never struck a match in your life?" said the Guide. "Never." "Well, this will be a new thrill for you, then," said the weary Guide, and forced the match on the kid. The kid shuddered, and gripped the matchstick. She closed her eyes and "struck wildly." Then she opened her eyes, saw the match burning, gave a shriek like a lost soul, and flung the match away. It landed in the Guide's hair and fortunately went out. A testing time was had by all.

A REAL BARGAIN

TALKING of insurance, I have a pal whose house was burgled the other night. She got home from a movie and found the entire contents of the house spread out on the floor... desks, drawers, cupboards, trunks, everything had been cleaned out. The only thing that had been stolen was four dollars in cash. "It was wonderful," said my friend. "For the absurdly low price of four dollars, I had my whole house turned out thoroughly. All my cupboards and drawers were empty, ready for cleaning. All my possessions were ready for sorting. I threw out hundreds of things I had always meant to throw out. And I found my best hat, which had been lost for two years and now looks better than ever. All for four bucks. I was thrilled to bits."

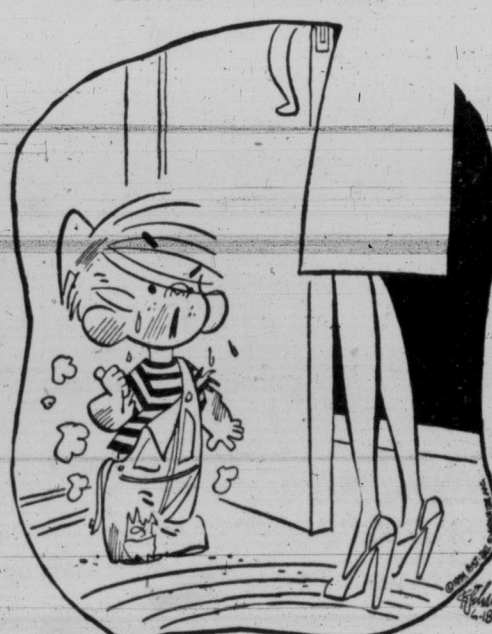

SCENERY

A West Vancouver man was telling me there is little use in fighting the Government's plan to run trains through the finest part of his unusual town. Incidentally, one of the most unusual things about West Vancouver is its shape. People in other towns forget, if they ever know, that this peculiar town is eleven miles long, lying along a strip of shore. There are not many towns of ten times its population that would be half so damaged by a railway. Anyhow, this West Vancouver man was saying no good will come of strife and bitterness. His townsmen, he told me, must get together with the PGE and arrange, partly at their own, to have the trains running through eleven miles of flowers, shrubs, and a thousand delights of that sort. Roses, roses all the way, as the poet sang.

THIS sounds very attractive. At the moment the right of way seems to pass mostly through tin cans, old cartons, salmonberry and blackberry patches (complete with woodticks), old bed-springs, and that sort of scenery. Eleven miles of garden would be miles better. Eleven miles better. But I have thought of something finer still. You know those little boat trips one can take at fairs? Your little boat drifts through a covered canal, and along either wall you pass various scenes devoted to beauty, love, comedy, and horror. Sometimes the ride is called the Old Mill and sometimes the Tunnel of Love.

Well, why not cover the whole of the PGE where it goes through West Vancouver and make it the biggest Tunnel of Love in the world? The 22 miles of wall (two sides) could be one enormous museum and art gallery. I am sure the West Vancouver Sketch Club could supply 22 miles of paintings.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"THE KIDS PICK ON ME JUST 'CAUSE I HIT 'EM."

From Our Files

June 18, 1894 — A letter received here from R. L. Cawston says the Similkameen River rose three feet higher than ever known by old-timers. All of his garden truck in the lowlands was swept away.

June 18, 1914 — Many rare blooms were exhibited at the Rose Show held yesterday afternoon at the Alexandra Club under auspices of the King's Daughters. Mrs. H. E. Young declared the event open at 3 o'clock.

June 18, 1934 — The local egg market today was up one cent on all grades, with prices 24, 22 and 21 cents for Grade A large, medium and pullets. The market is very firm, with possibilities of further rises this week.

As Our Readers See It

MR. BONNER'S ROLES

Few can doubt, considering both the variety and brilliance of his roles; that Mr. Bonner is the Alec Guinness of the local scene. His impersonation, for example, of a "Social Creditor" in that stirring drama, "The Great Election," which ran for two seasons recently, was so convincing that many people even today find it hard to believe he was only playing a part. I understand, in fact, that he is sometimes asked to address meetings on "Monetary Reform," much to his embarrassment.

His most recent role, too, in which he attempts to borrow thirty million dollars from a group of international financiers (many will remember them as the villains of "The Great Election"), to enable a pay-as-you-go government to expand a never-paid-yet railroad, is also attracting much attention, even though some critics complain that despite a brilliant opening scene the latter part tends to drag.

Not so well known, though, perhaps, is another recent comedy which, despite its short run, provided Mr. Bonner with further scope for his talents. I refer, of course, to "Robert in Deweyland." In this saucy satire, Mr. Bonner took the part of "Minister of Education" in an imaginary country where everything is topsy-turvy. Some of the dialogue is reprinted in the April issue of the "B.C. Teacher," and makes, I feel, fascinating reading. In one scene, for example, a group of teachers, anxious to raise standards and increase the public respect for their profession, approach the minister and object to what they call "The present policy of the department of education, which accords equal status in graduation ceremonies to all Grade 12 pupils, regardless of standing, effort, or attitude."

To this Mr. Bonner replies, "A student who completes four years of high school should graduate with his class, even if he still has some supplemental or other examinations to pass before he receives his actual graduation certificate. Though this is the general opinion of the department, school principals are not under any obligation to carry it out."

It will easily be seen that this type of high comedy (not, for example, the word "completes") depends on a very skilful touch, and now that the play is to be revived with a new star in the leading role, it is to be hoped it will not degenerate into farce. The days ahead, however, will tell the tale.

DEREK PETHICK

Royal Oak

A Look Inside the White House

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

WHILE Gen. Eisenhower listed several measures which he hopes Congress will pass, he devoted most of his attention in his recent address and by far the most energy to his farm program. This is indeed the controversial measure which has the greatest practical importance. For if Congress turns him down and insists upon rigid supports of farm prices, the government will have to buy in huge surplus crops on top of the mountainous surpluses it is already compelled to hold. It costs, as the President pointed out $30,000 an hour just to store them. The operation has cost about 2.8 billion dollars in the past year.

Yet on the other hand, if Congress does not turn down the President in order to continue the rigid supports, it is believed in Congress—and that is where the belief matters—that the farmers will turn against the Republican party.

The farm program presents a mean political issue. It is a case of damned if you do and damned if you don't. Here the President is standing up straight for the right but hard policy thanks, one may assume, to the fact that he has a Secretary of Agriculture with convictions and with a conscience. Secretary Benson seems to be a refreshing example of a public man who is not trying each day to split the difference between yes and no.

FLEXIBLE SUPPORTS

Except for flexible price supports, there is not much that is controversial about the President's legislative program today. The main reason that the program is not very controversial is that it takes two to have a controversy, and the President has either lost or given up the fight on the other principal controversial issues.

The tax bill is not highly controversial, largely because the recession has not deepened. This has reduced the pressure for the Democratic proposal to raise the income tax exemptions and remove several million taxpayers from the rolls. The revision of the Taft-Hartley Act has failed. In the main this is because there are so many Republicans and a very considerable number of southern Democrats who do not want to revise the law in favor of the labor unions, and also on the opposite end a very considerable number of northern Democrats who do not object in the least to being asked to argue that the Taft-Hartley Act—that "slave law"—is still grinding the faces of the poor.

In the appropriation bills there are still items which may become highly controversial—for example in the field of foreign aid.

There is also a major question of policy which has not yet been formally raised either by the Administration or by the Democratic opposition. It is whether the level of military expenditures should be raised in view of the reverses in Indo-China. The possibility of doing just that in this session, after the outcome of Geneva is known, should not be foreclosed.

For while there may be no military line that can be drawn in the quicksands of Viet Nam, what can be done by our own decision is to enlarge our forces in-being and to expand our reserves.

It was the world trade program, which the Administration received from the Randall Commission, that might have become the companion piece to the new farm program. It is lost in this session and the President barely mentioned it in his address on Thursday evening. In his press conference that same morning he did not reaffirm his own personal belief in the program. But it would be misleading to pretend that this Congress will accept any substantial part of it.

Gen. Eisenhower has said many times that his administration and his party would stand or fall on the legislative record. If he is right in that, the legislative record is such that the Party will fail.

NEVER DYNAMIC

Now, it may fall. No one can know what November will bring. But if it does or if it does not fall, it will not be because of the legislative record. The program that the President offered had much in it that was good. But it was never an important program and it was never dynamic or interesting or inspiring. The best of it was the farm program and the foreign trade program, or at least the foreign trade aspirations. But they were attempts to correct a troublesome condition that had grown up rather than positive and constructive measures themselves.

Moreover, at their best, they were not politically popular measures. The President is taking the legislative program too seriously and is misleading himself about its importance.

In 1953 and since then the vital needs of the country have depended not on legislation but on wise and effective administration in foreign policy, in military planning, in the maintenance of security and the protection of justice, in the bureaucracy and in the budget.

The test of success and of failure is there, and not as the President seems to think in what the score shows about bills proposed, enacted, or rejected.

His crucial problem with Congress is not how to get it to pass laws. It is how to get Congress to let him execute the office of President. That is what McCarthyism is about. That is what has made it virtually impossible for Secretary Dulles to negotiate effectively. And that is why the Administration has no genuine control over, is unable to maintain a salutary discipline within, its own ranks. The balance of the Constitution is dangerously upset and the government cannot operate effectively under those conditions.

The Battle of the Beetle

From London Calling

A NEW kind of battle has been taking place aboard HMS Victory, the famous flagship in which Admiral Nelson sailed at the Battle of Trafalgar a century and a half ago. The battle is against the death-watch beetle, that destructive insect which eats into old wood.

The beetle has already been attacked with insecticides without much success, and now as the old ship lies in dry dock at Portsmouth a new method has recently been tried. She has been sealed up and a poison gas pumped into her.

Dr. R. C. Fisher, the man largely responsible for his experiment, has explained that it was a rather particular problem because of the immense size of the timbers.

The hull of the ship consists of three layers of planking—an outer planking and an inner planking separated by the actual ribs of the ship, the three together constituting a three-foot thickness of timber which is extremely difficult to penetrate with any liquid insecticide.

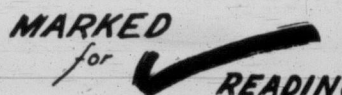

Before they decided to adopt the gas method quite a variety of different types of treatment had been tried. Insecticide had been applied regularly every year, and DDT dust also had been used.

Dr. Fisher could not tell how much gas would have to be pumped into the ship, but he said: "There is one point I would like to make quite clear. The object of this gas treatment is not to kill grubs which are working possibly very deeply within the wood. The treatment aims simply at the destruction of the beetles which, at this time of the year, are near the surface of the timber."

The death-watch beetle, it seems, develops from the grubs which live right in the wood. They turn into beetles probably in the autumn, but they are only ready to come out of the wood in the spring and early summer.

Unfortunately the extent of the ravages of the beetles is already very great, and it is because of this that the new efforts are being made to improve on the insecticide treatments.

DEAD LEVEL

The greatest discovery of the London Explorers' Club is the fact that there is no essential difference between East Enders and West Enders. Dullness makes the whole world kin. The great majority of men and women are dull and similar. Only one man in 10,000 ever does anything remarkable, and the others try to prevent him.

—W. Maegre, in "The Diary of a London Explorer."

FOR THE BIRDS

In Britain about a hundred thousand people belong to at least one of the three hundred societies that take some interest in ornithology; and well over a hundred thousand possess at least one bird book. So remarkable is the demand for bird books that in 1952 at least thirty-two were issued by British publishers alone, and I include only respectable stuff for adults, not any of the many children's books, and not any of the assorted catfennys nonsense. That's nearly two books in every three weeks. I haven't yet got the complete figures for 1953, but it looks like running close to a book a week, on an average. There are half a dozen periodicals entirely devoted to birds; and most English counties now have an annual printed bird report. The output of words on British birds must be several millions a year, in some years I would say over five million.

—James Fisher, well-known ornithologist.

Sometimes You Feel Canadian

MOST of the time my patriotism is a pretty narrow thing—a sort of periwinkle confined in the shell of Victoria. Once in a while, when I've been on a motor trip, it expands to take in British Columbia. On odd occasions it grows even larger to embrace all Canada. Anything beyond that—anything up to world citizenship—is pretty nebulous.

Generally I think that Canada's a nice place to be raised and in which to live. I think it is particularly lucky to include B.C. In turn, it is exceptionally fortunate to include Victoria.

I guess most people in this country experience an emotional response to being a Canadian only a few times in their lives. They're proud of being Canadians often enough. Whenever something reflects to the credit of the nation they remember their nationality. They're quick enough to defend it against attack.

Still they haven't the eloquence in its praise that Rupert Brooke had for England. That isn't surprising. There aren't many Rupert Brookes in Canada.

EMOTIONAL IMPACT

But there are occasions on which the sudden realization that you're a Canadian has an emotional impact that seems physical.

I'm thinking of a young guy, still under 21, who walked in the parade of athletes into the Hamilton stadium for the first British Empire Games in 1930. As the Canadian contingent came out of the tunnel onto the track, thousands stood up on their seats and roared. The anthem was drowned in waves of sound that lifted to a crescendo.

The hair seemed to prick on the back of the young guy's neck. There was a sort of rubbery feeling in his legs. Suddenly he realized that the crowd was yelling for him and the ranks beside him—yelling because the marchers were Canadians. There wasn't anything immediately personal in the greeting. No individual was singled out. The stadium echoed with the sustained shout for all of the boys in that particular uniform stepping around the infield.

It was primitive, maybe, and a little numbing in its volume, but the welcome went right home to the youngster. It was for him and those with him because they were Canada in that show.

The story of the Hamilton Games is history—fairly satisfactory history as sports events go. The big chapters were written by people like Vancouver's Percy Williams in the track sprints, by Montreal's Munroe Bourne in the swimming, and Toronto's Alf Phillips in the diving.

The smaller chapters dealt with the little human stories of boys who bunked in dormitories in Hamilton's Prince of Wales School, who sat at trestle tables in the dining halls, who made friends among the teams from Australia, New Zealand, England, Scotland, Ireland, South Africa, who gave the best they could in their events and began to understand the fellowship of sport on a broader plane.

Unwritten, and probably taken for granted, was the recognition of a team spirit that covered the whole nation.

TEAM IDEA

The little French-Canadian wrestler, who made a penny or two on the side by selling Canadian souvenir pins, the slight fellow who seemed too small for his game and whose blazer didn't fit very well, was a member of the team—even if his English was broken. You were in it all together and Canada was something more than vast miles you covered by train. It was people—your people.

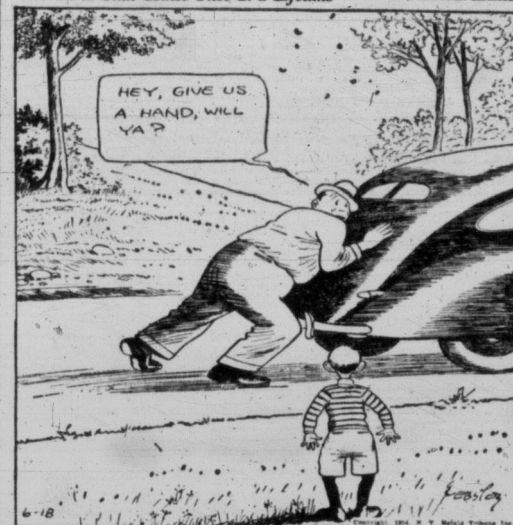

The impression lingers as Victoria goes about the job of trying to raise a little more money for the Empire Games in Vancouver less than two months from now. Whether or not the local committee will succeed in collections depends pretty well on how many see the event as a team effort.

They'll have to move out of my periwinkle shell and recognize the fact that they're British Columbians at least. Possibly a lot of them will go beyond that and see themselves as Canadians helping to do a Canadian job.

They may not get an emotional impact from it, but they should be able to build up a certain pride in the fact that his part of the world is host to the Games. Somehow I hope they'll remember and reflect the pride they had a little more than 20 years ago in the Vancouver boy called Percy Williams. At that time, Percy belonged to all of us. In a similar way, the Games in August belong to us. Maybe we ought to think about that when the local committee goes out to help provide the extra $90,000 needed to finance the project.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

A WINTER CLASSIC

ONT. HIGHWAY BUDGET INCREASED $10,000,000

TORONTO (BUP)—The Ontario cabinet has voted an extra $10,000,000 toward road construction which will begin immediately, Highways Minister George Doucett announced last night.

The special cabinet meeting followed complaints by contractors before a select legislature committee that road work was dragging this year and equipment was going rusty in their yards.

The new appropriations meant that Ontario will spend $133,300,000 on its road system this year.

The value of construction already under way or scheduled to start soon on the award of contracts, totals $68,900,000, a record for this time of year.

In addition to contracts still to be awarded, ordinary maintenance on principal highways will call for an expenditure of about $35,000,000 this year and the amount to be spent on township roads will be increased by $3,000,000 to $33,000,000.

Ticket Sales for B.E.G. Hit $91,000 Mark

Advance Bookings Continue to Soar For Vancouver Event; Housing Plans

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than 1,100 home-owners herewith accommodation for 3,600 British Empire Games visitors have registered with the housing committee. The majority will be "first-time"

Besides the rooms in private homes, which chairman Harold Iler said have been checked by real estate men, accommodation for 1,298 in hotels and 516 in motels is still available.

He said an anticipated 35,000 persons will flock to Vancouver for the games but half of these will stay with friends or relatives or have made their own arrangements.

Ticket sales, meanwhile, continue to soar with an advanced sale of more than $91,000 already in the books. Ticket boss Sam Rosen said customers have to date preferred tickets for track, swimming and boxing, in that order.

U.S. INTERESTS

Most of the tickets continue to go to B.C. residents, but increasing requests for seats appear from the State of Washington. Mr. Rosen hopes to reach one-third of the ticket objective by July 15, an "outstanding" figure for sport events.

Free games publicity is being provided by one firm, who donated 90 billboards in B.C. and another 20 between here and Winnipeg. A motor company advises customers to attend the ST. JOHN TO STAFF B.E.G.

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than 300 St. John Ambulance volunteers will be drawn from across Canada to staff the British Empire Games, July 31 to August 7.

More than two-thirds of the workers will be drawn from British Columbia, but it was thought Thursday that about 50 would be on the scene from points as far away as Montreal.

Provincial superintendent George Edwardson said the association has been "training special crews for several months" to tackle the "biggest job... ever handled in B.C."

NFB Chairman Tells of Dangers

WINNIPEG (CP)—The concept of global loyalty embodied in such phrases as "world citizenship" could lead to widespread misunderstanding and destruction, A. W. Trueman, chairman of the National Film Board, told the biennial conference of the Association of Canadian Clubs here today.

Mr. Trueman, honorary president of the association, said "local loyalties" are the true basis for international understanding.

"When anyone asks me to slough off those relations with my country which are summed up in the term 'citizenship,' and to substitute for them global associations which will make a citizen of the world, I suspect that something is being proposed that is dangerous."

Under the stress of international relationships people were inclined now and then to question the wisdom and necessity of local loyalties. But: "Is it not because a man knows and loves his own children best that he understands and has a regard for the children of other men?"

"It is not a man's love for his own country and his own people that gives him his power of understanding another man's love for his."

"If a man finds it childish to love his country above all other countries; if he finds loyalty to his friends and fellow citizens an unreasonable demand, is it likely that, freed from these claims, he will effectively clasp to his emancipated bosom the entire globe? This is surely a sorry piece of reasoning."

The "world citizenship" proposal was dangerous because it was against human nature.

"There can be nothing inconsistent between loving one's own country and being loyal to one's own kind on the one hand and to all nations on the other."

Undesired Tattooing

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

I recently read a fine article by Drs. Herman Beerman and R. A. G. Lane, of Philadelphia, on tattooing. They described the pigments that are used, and they told of the modern electric tattoo needle which vibrates 1,000 to 3,000 times per minute and penetrates the skin to a depth of 1/64 or 1/32 of an inch.

They told of the reasons why many a young man, particularly in the army or navy, gets himself tattooed. The doctors told, also, of the remarkable number of cases in which the tattoo needles carried into the skin the germs of some chronic and unpleasant disease.

The doctors told about those few freaks who get themselves tattooed from head to foot. I once had as a patient a circus woman so covered with tattooing that her body looked as if it had been covered by a dark shawl. As one might have expected, she was an odd person, with queer ideas of what was fun. Unfortunately, many a man who in his youth feels that he must be tattooed in order to be a good fellow later wishes devoutly that he could get rid of the marks on his skin.

According to Beerman and Lane, the simplest procedure is to cut out the affected skin, and then cover the hole with a graft taken from some other part of the person's body. Unfortunately, this leaves a conspicuous scar. When the skin is rather loose so that it can be slipped around a bit, and when the tattooed design is not too wide, the area can often be removed in several stages. One after the other, several long narrow bands of skin can be removed until all that remains is a long, inconspicuous scar like that of a cut.

SURGICAL SKIN SHAVERS

Another method is to take one of the new surgical skin shavers and to remove only those superficial layers of the skin which contain the pigment. But this will leave a scar. Another method is to so irritate the skin with some chemical that there will be an inflammation, and during the process the pigment will come to the surface and be thrown out. This, again, will leave a scar. Sometimes a doctor will tattoo the affected area with a 50 per cent solution of tannic acid. After this, some silver nitrate is washed on. Late, a slough comes away with much of the tattooed pigment. Few of these procedures have given satisfaction.

Library Workers Seen In Line for Pay Hike

Non-Professionals Stand to Gain on Basis Of Settlement Between City, Inside Staff

By DAVE STOCK

Non-professional workers at the Victoria Public Library stand to gain by a settlement reached between the city and its inside staff, it was learned today.

Although the library workers who number about 35, are not members of the same union, they were given assurance by library board's committee in April that if the inside city workers got a raise this year, they would get the same.

At the time the library board formally agreed to raise the pay of the 20 professional employees it then had on staff, but argued that since City Council was holding the line with its personnel it could not make any concessions to its non-professional employees.

Signing of a 1954 agreement between the Victoria Public Library Staff Association and the library board has been delayed pending outcome of the city situation.

Council Wednesday approved a two per cent wage increase, half MSA costs and five cents per day service pay for each five years of service for its inside staff. Although library workers may not receive the same fringe benefits, the gentleman's agreement they have with the board calls for a settlement that is equitable.

The board cannot turn to the city for extra funds to provide the increase but must find the money by juggling the budget already allotted.

With a year's training in her profession, Dianna Gould of Victoria has been assigned to the United Airlines' new Mainliner service between Seattle and Vancouver. She and another Victoria girl, Allison Walford, will take over their new duties Tuesday. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Gould, 1955 Neil, and Mr. and Mrs. John G. Walford, 2579 Dalhousie.

HOLIDAY SEASON MAY HIT MONTH-END BLOOD CLINIC

More than 900 pints of blood will be required by Red Cross Transfusion Service in a three-day clinic to be held here next week but officials fear many regular donors will be on holidays.

Cards have been sent to 1,200 previous donors pointing out that a severe shortage of plasma and Gamma Globulin, anti-polio serum, is general in B.C. Blood type "O rh negative" is in special demand as it can be administered to some other blood types.

New donors are sought by the Red Cross who point out that a gift of 20 cubic centimetres of blood is painless and may save a life.

The mobile clinic is sufficiently staffed so that there is no delay and from the time a donor enters, has a soft drink, gives blood, rests, has coffee and cookies, only about 20 minutes elapses.

Red Cross lapel pins in bronze, silver and gold are awarded for repeated donations. Top award is a certificate bearing the signature of the Lieutenant-Governor.

The clinic will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Red Cross House, 1046 Fort. Hours are 1.30 to 4.30 p.m. and 7 to 9.30 p.m.

Phone Prescriptions Approved

Victoria druggists are in favor of a bill before the Canadian Senate which would facilitate the handling and sale of pain-killing drugs.

The bill, if approved, would permit doctors to order by telephone some drugs containing codeine in compound form without having to write out a prescription.

Under the present setup, the regulations in the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act are so strict that a physician has to write out a prescription for even a mild drug. The patient also cannot get his prescription renewed without first having it signed again by the doctor.

W. W. McGill, city druggist, said the present regulations were too rigid.

"In the space of 40 years we have gone from one extreme to the other," he said. "We are now getting back to a more sensible way of handling drugs."

Doctors, he pointed out, had to write out a prescription for medicine containing only an infinitesimal amount of codeine or other mild forms of drugs. The system was a "nuisance" both to druggists and doctors, he said.

"The pharmacist and the doctor should be permitted to use their judgment," said Mr. McGill. Another druggist pointed out the rules governing sale of certain drugs were not as strict in England as they are in Canada.

Victoria physicians disclosed that the Canadian Medical Association is also supporting certain changes to the drug act.

The association, they said, had asked the federal government to allow doctors to order by phone codeine and other pain-killing drugs in compound form. This would do away with having to write out prescriptions for mild drugs, they said.

Baby Killed; 5 Forget

Police Question Adults in Auto

STUREGON FALLS, Ont. (BUP)—Provincial police questioned five adults today to learn how they could all forget about a 16-month-old child and leave him lying in a driveway to be crushed under their car.

Infant Richard Aubin was run over Thursday night by the car of a family friend in which his mother and grandmother were riding.

The driver, Leo Maritau, Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Noel and the mother and grandmother were starting a trip from Field to North Bay and didn't realize the baby was not in the car.

Maritau backed up, decided he was too close to a ditch, went forward five feet, then backed out into the street.

As the car got under way, one of the five adults looked back and saw the child lying dead in the driveway.

Army Officer Charged With Killing Mates

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chief U.S. prosecutor in Germany, Thomas C. Lencz, today recommended that the U.S. justice department decide whether to extradite for trial here former army Capt. James M. Leech, of Lima, O., who has been charged with the eight-year-old murders of three fellow officers.

Lencz, of Everett, Mass., submitted his recommendations together with a two-foot-high stock of evidence to U.S. High Commissioner James B. Conant.

The case, which is West Germany's biggest unsolved post-war crime, was revived four weeks ago. A U.S. official here filed formal charges accusing Leech, now a 44-year-old Ohio refinery worker, of killing three fellow officers and burning their bodies in a luxurious villa during the early post-war occupation of Germany.

The three officers were hacked with an axe and then burned to death on Jan. 8, 1946, at Passau, Germany.

Legal officers speculated that whatever Conant's decision, he has a good chance of never facing trial in Germany. His extradition would have to be approved, they said, first by the high commission, then by the departments of state and justice, a judge in the Lima, Ohio area and possibly an appeals judge.

The victims of the brutal torch murder were: Leech's superior and the chief military government officer in Passau, Maj. Everett F. Cofran, then of Seattle, Wash.; Capt. Adrian L. Wessler, of New Rochelle, N.Y.; and First Lt. Stanley A. Rosewater, of Omaha, Neb.

'Love Potion' Killings Bring Jail Sentence

LONDON (AP)—A 44-year-old office manager today got a five-year prison sentence for slipping a fatal "love potion" to an attractive young typist in a box of chocolates.

The girl, Betty Grant, 27, and an office co-worker who shared the candy with her, June Malins, 19, both died.

The manager, Arthur K. Ford, pleaded guilty to manslaughter. He admitted dosing the chocolates with a powerful sexual stimulant known as cantharidin, or "Spanish fly," and said he gave the candy to Miss Grant in an attempt to win her affections.

2,800 Lbs. Salmon Seized From B.C. Firm

THEY CAUGHT 565 PICKEREL

Ohio Anglers Blasted After Big Fish Grab

TORONTO (CP)—Pete McGillen in his outdoors column in The Telegram today quotes Cleveland columnists as blasting seven Ohio fishermen fined recently at North Bay for having a total of 565 pickered when their combined limit was 84.

The anglers paid fines totalling $480, plus another $900 in fees for the return of seized equipment including a station wagon. They told reporters at the time they would tell all their friends in Ohio never to go to Ontario for a fishing vacation.

"Fellows, we've news for the likes of you, even if you do come from Ohio," wrote Lou Gail in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. "Most Canadians and practically all Americans who could never qualify for your master fish hogs' club would be pleased to end if you and your kind never went to Canada. You leave a bad smell behind."

Gail said that, in his opinion, the court was too lenient. He added:

"It is violations of this type which are leading to stricter regulations in Canada and in some instances these stricter laws penalize the thousands of law-abiding Americans who go to Ontario for their annual fishing trip.

"There can be no excusing a putrid incident like this. A quick survey of some Cleveland fishermen reveals they think the judge should have thrown the book at these men—after he had loaded it with heavy sinkers."

Hank Andrews of the Cleveland Press wrote:

"Ohio has a black mark against it in the eyes of many Ontario people as a result of this incident. I don't blame Ontarians for being indignant. I maintain that if Ohioans don't like the limit imposed by Ontario, they should stay away. They shouldn't try to cheat on the law. Sportsmen must really cringe in disgust at such a wanton violation as this one."

McGillen says that he himself has received many letters of complaint and indignation from Ontario residents over the case.

Paint May Provide Clue in Ontario Hit-Run Killing

LONDON, Ont. (BUP)—Police hoped today that tiny bits of green paint found in the torn clothing of a hit-run victim would help in their search for the truck that killed him.

Mario Kastrat, 33, was struck down Thursday night while he was walking on the edge of No. 2 highway on the southern outskirts of London.

His companion, Roasli Wauderlich, said there was a sudden crash and Kastrat "simply disappeared." It was five minutes before he was found in a ditch 60 feet away. One shoe was found 75 feet from the point of impact.

Miss Wauderlich said the truck that hit him was green and that it sped south.

Small Plane Crash Kills One

CHATHAM, Ont. (BUP)—Transport Department investigators probed the wreckage of a small private plane today to see what caused a crash that killed its pilot and injured a passenger.

The yellow two-seater Piper Cub nose-dived into a field 20 miles north of here yesterday on a pleasure flight, killing Richard Ogletree, 25, of Thamesville, Ont. He had started flying only six months ago.

William Burrell, 26, of Dresden, Ont., was thrown 10 feet from the wreckage. He was reported in "fairly good" condition at the Chatham General Hospital with a broken right wrist and other undetermined injuries.

Ogletree, the father of two small children, was showing off his four-month-old plane after paying Burrell's family a visit.

Kidnapping Charge Against 6 Men in Quebec Dismissed

MONTREAL (CP)—Kidnaping proceedings against six men following the temporary disappearance June 9 of seven-year-old Richard DeBellefeuille from a school yard were dismissed Thursday by Judge Willie Proulx.

The charges were brought against Lionel DeBellefeuille, 32, of Lincoln Park, Mich., the boy's father, and five other men, including a Montreal detective who allegedly aided the father take Richard from a school playground.

Judge Proulx said no evidence was offered to prove the men had committed an illegal action in taking the boy.

SOVIET CLAIMS INVENTION OF JET ENGINE

LONDON (Reuters)—Russia today claimed a whole string of aviation records, inventions and various flying firsts.

"Soviet pilots have fulfilled with distinction the task set them to fly higher, faster and longer than anyone else," Moscow radio said in a broadcast marking Soviet aviation day.

The broadcast, quoting an article by Air Marshal N. Shriko, claimed the invention of the jet engine for Russia. "The first flight in a jet plane was made by the Soviet airman Bakchivanzhi in 1942," it said.

The broadcast repeated one of Russia's favorite first claims: A. F. Mozhaisky, an officer of the Russian army, made the world's first flight in 1882 near St. Petersburg.

Perjury Trials May Follow

Both Sides Blasted as McCarthy-Army Hearings End; Stevens Confident

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shorn of its television trimmings, the Senate investigations sub-committee today starts in private what promises to become a bristling argument over who lied in the McCarthy-Army controversy.

Senator Charles Potter, Rep. Mich., put other members on edge by asserting that both sides had convicted the other of "pressure" and "blackmail" charges and declaring that a perjury case might be made against some of the 30 witnesses heard in the 36 days of public hearings.

He did not name anyone, but proposed that some of the "employees who have played major roles on both sides" be dismissed from their jobs. His use of the word "employees" indicated he was willing to shift the blame below the rank of Senator McCarthy and probably Army Secretary Robert Stevens.

Other members of the sub-committee declined to comment on the statement, which overshadowed the traditional amenities uttered at the wind-up of the hearings late Thursday. "Absolutely no comment," said McCarthy, the Wisconsin Republican senator who repeatedly defended his two staff aides directly involved.

Stevens, looking back on the long and bitter days of the dispute, voiced confidence that "the integrity of the army no longer is at stake," and made it plain he intends to reject an invitation to an after-the-hearings cocktail party to be given Monday by Senator Karl Mundt, Rep., S.D., for participants on both sides. And he expects no army personnel will attend.

Stevens also told reporters: 1. "I am absolutely confident that there will be no abuse of army personnel, in or out of uniform," who appear from now on before McCarthy's Communist-hunting sub-committee. One of the background issues in the row with the senator was Stevens' contention that a general who appeared before McCarthy had been abused.

2. He has no intention "whatsoever" of resigning, but proposes to serve as long as he is of "service to the country."

3. "I feel that the integrity of the army was at stake. We've been through that now. It must

Cordova Bay PTA Would Secede

Cordova Bay Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association Thursday backed Saanich council in its demand for the amalgamation of all Saanich schools with the Greater Victoria school system.

The association went on requesting the education minister for secession of all Saanich schools from district 63. The matter is now being studied by the department of education.

Saanich council is seeking to bring all schools in the municipality under one school system because residents in School District 63 pay more taxes for education than those in School District 61. Amalgamation would result in all residents paying the same school tax, which would be lower than that of

The Greater Victoria school system takes in only half of the Saanich schools. The association's action followed a resolution passed by School District 61.

Suspect in Theft Victim of Shot

BOSTON (AP)—George D. O'Brien, 44, who two months ago was acquitted of a charge of participating in one of the country's major unsolved thefts—$681,700 from an armored truck in 1952—was found shot through the head Thursday. Doctors held little hope for his recovery.

O'Brien was facing indictment on charges of receiving stolen money and the threat of income tax troubles hung over him.

Low Bid on Nanaimo PO Is $802,050

Ottawa Studies Tenders On New Federal Building

NANAIMO—Low bid for construction of the federal public building here, to contain the post office and other federal government offices, was $802,050, it was learned today.

The tender was submitted by E. H. Shockey & Son Ltd., Vancouver.

The actual construction of the project, to cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 when completed, is the second phase of the program. First involved preparing the site on Nanaimo's waterfront, beside the Hotel Malaspina, where the former post office stood.

Temporary quarters have been provided in the Pygmy Pavilion.

SUBJECT TO CHECK

All bids are subject to checking by federal public works department engineers. In calling for tenders it was specified that the government was not bound to accept the lowest tender.

Other tenders were: Nard Construction Ltd., Vancouver, $817,630; E. Robinson Construction Ltd., Nanaimo, $817,900; G. H. Wheaton Ltd., Victoria, $819,443; Bennett & White Construction Co. Ltd., Vancouver, $834,885; Northern Construction Co. & J. W. Stewart Ltd., Vancouver, $867,811; A & B Construction Co. Ltd., Nanaimo, $903,330.

North Cowichan Plans Brief For Conference in Nanaimo

CHEMAINUS — North Cowichan municipality will present a brief of three resolutions to annual meeting of the Association of Vancouver Island Municipalities at Nanaimo June 30.

A brief on the following proposals will be prepared by Reeve C. A. P. Murison: Municipality's forest reserve policy, a resolution broadening the scope of municipal investments, a resolution backing the stand of the B.C. Teachers' Federation on the cost of education.

Reeve Murison said that a great many North Cowichan resolutions have been adopted by the UBCM in previous years. Appointed as delegates to the convention were Reeve Murison and Councillor G. Whittaker.

Reporting on a recent meeting between the Crofton Water Board and Councillor Whittaker and himself, Reeve Murison said that the group had inspected the Crofton dam at first hand.

The people were worried about

Chemainus Mill Wins Company Safety Award

CHEMAINUS — Chemainus Division sawmill of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. has been awarded the inter-company safety award for the month of May.

The award is competed for monthly by company operations throughout the province and is won by the division having the lowest accident frequency for the current month. Chemainus had no compensable accidents during May for a frequency rate of zero.

The safety award is now flying from the division flag pole together with the "no accident" flag. Monday marked the 51st accident-free day at the sawmill.

Last Rites Today For Langford Man

Funeral was held today for George Wilson Edgar, who was owner of Langford Garage at Colwood Corners. He died Tuesday in his 36th year.

Rev. H. J. Jones held last rites at Sands' Mortuary Ltd., followed by cremation at Royal Oak Crematorium.

The deceased was born in Victoria and lived on Rosebank Road, Colwood. He is survived by his wife, Dorothy, at home, and his sister, Miss Molly Edgar, 2759 Belmont.

Smile Show Plays At Military Base

Toffino and Holberg will be revisited by Jerry Gosley's "Smile Show" July 16 and 18 after successful shows there in May which netted $130 for local charities.

Shows will be held at military bases and the troupe will travel by RCAF transport. The "Smile Show" entertained troops in Korea in 1953.

Keating Cross Road Given New Surface

BRENTWOOD — Central Saanich works department is busy laying a blacktop surface on Keating Cross Road adjacent to the Saanich growers' packing plant.

With the completion of the Patricia Bay express highway, considerable traffic to Brentwood now uses the new highway and Keating Cross Road in preference to West Saanich Road.

Vote June 24-26 On School By-Law For $448,000

LADYSMITH — Ballots will be cast in School District 67 next weekend on the $448,000 by-law for improvement and development of schools in the area, from north of here to Chemainus.

One portion of the program will be construction of a new 10-room elementary school for Chemainus, to cost $197,300. A model of the school is on display at the Odeon Theatre here.

Voting dates and places are: Ladysmith—Lion's Hall, June 24.

North Oyster—North Oyster School, June 26.

Diamond—Diamond School, June 26.

Saltair—Mount Brenton School, June 26.

Crescent—Johnson's Store, June 26.

Chemainus—Court House, June 26.

Thetis Island—Thetis School, June 26.

the color of the water, he said, and the engineer who accompanied them had suggested that a gravel filter would eliminate this condition. Trees surrounding the dam will be cleared by municipal workmen.

HIGHWAY PROPOSAL

There is still a difference of opinion between the provincial government and the municipality concerning the proposed declassification of the old Island Highway as proposed by the government.

The municipality has replied to another request from the Honorable P. A. Gagliardi, minister of Public Works, that it is still opposed to the declassification because of the heavy additional cost to the ratepayers that declassification would entail.

Reeve Murison pointed out that the first suggestion that the highway might become a municipal responsibility council received resolutions of protest from all its local ratepayers' associations who were quick to appreciate what this additional commitment would mean to them in terms of taxation.

West Saanich Bus Terminus Relocated

BRENTWOOD — Terminus of West Saanich bus route has been switched from the ferry landing store area at Moodyville to the intersection of Verdier Avenue and Beach Drive.

The extension of the route to take in Stelly's Crossroad, which appeared to be a popular move, also has been abandoned.

"We had no option. Central Saanich Municipality ordered us to stop the Stelly's routing of the service," said Conway Parrott, superintendent of Vancouver Island Coach Lines. The municipality, he said, took the view that Stelly's Road might not stand up under continued operation of the heavy bus traffic.

Some criticism has been leveled at the change of route by commuters and store operators.

For years the buses have been making the store section of Moodyville their stopping point.

Now the bus patrons have to walk a long uphill block to the Beach Drive-Verdier Avenue corner, where the road has been widened to provide a bus parking station during the scheduled stopover.

Reason for this, according to the company spokesman, is the danger of backing-up or turning on the steep gradient at the ferry landing.

MACHINISTS' STRIKE ENDS

CHEMAINUS — Machinists and loggers at Copper Canyon Camp of MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd., returned to work today after a four-day labor dispute.

Minor grievances, chief cause of the tie-up, will be negotiated, according to IWA spokesmen.

Machinists failed to report for work on Saturday, and on Tuesday and Wednesday loggers stayed off the job.

Ottawa Waits For Report on Ripple Rock

Hopes to Remove Shipping Menace

OTTAWA (CP)—Scientists still are studying whether they can tunnel into Ripple Rock—a major hazard to west coast shipping and the butt of parliamentary attacks for years.

The question of how to remove the rock came up in the Commons Thursday, as it has for many years. The rock is a dangerous obstruction in Seymour Narrows—a shipping channel east of Vancouver Island some 100 miles north of Vancouver.

Trade Minister Howe said that after more than a year of investigation, the government has not yet received a report from scientists on the best way to remove Ripple Rock.

DRILLING FINISHED

Scientists under the National Research Council had completed most of the experimental drill holes to determine the nature of the reef.

"One method of removing the rock, by tunnelling, is feasible if there are no fissures in the rock."

Howard Green (PC, Vancouver-Quadra) said he understands that information from the drilling proves a tunnel can be dug without danger from cracks in the rock.

Mr. Howe said he hopes that is so.

Motorcycle Display On Langford Program

Annual Fair July 30-31 at Community Hall Will Feature Sports, Crowning of Queen

LANGFORD—Motorcycle Club of Victoria will hold its field day at the Langford Community Club fair July 31 to provide the climax for two days of festivities.

The club plans novelty rides, stunts and competition for perpetual challenge trophies.

Opening event of the fair Friday, July 30, will be the crowning of fair queen Sheila Arden, with the Shrine Band of Victoria in attendance for the ceremony and evening program.

A talent show, open to all of 18 years and under, will be featured attraction of the Friday evening program. Eliminations will take place July 27 at the Community Hall.

FOLK DANCING

Folk dances will be staged by the Let's Dance Club.

While children's sports are being run off in the lower field Saturday afternoon a baby show will be held in the Community Hall.

Other activities for children will be the pet show and fancy dress parade.

Langford Fire Department, under the direction of Fire Chief Rod Bayles, will give a display.

Entry forms for the various activities and competitions will be available shortly. Those for the talent show alone are ready for distribution at the homes of Mrs. F. R. LeQuenne, 66 Leigh Road, and Mrs. R. Limer, Leigh Road, and at all district schools. Women's auxiliary to the fire department has charge of the event.

'Was in Trance' Father Charges

Manslaughter Trial of Vancouver's Dr. Rush Goes Through Second Day

VANCOUVER (CP)—Manslaughter trial of Dr. R. D. Rush, city physician charged in connection with the death of his wife, went through its second day Thursday.

Hugh McCarten, father of Mrs. Rush, testified that his daughter had told him she was suffering from cancer.

He said he had visited the Rush's home for six days prior to her death. Mrs. Rush was either unconscious or in a trance most of the time, McCarten said.

The witness also testified that his daughter had a dislike of hospitals and "insisted" that she should not be taken to a hospital.

Big Residential Subdivision for Tillicum Area

A large residential subdivision to adjoin a new shopping centre is being developed near Tillicum Road, Saanich, by the Capital Lands Development Ltd., it was learned today.

William Rice, manager, said the residential subdivision is composed of 47 acres and will be divided up into 125 lots. About 12 acres will also be set aside for a future school, he said.

The subdivision borders Tillicum Road from the new provincial highway and proceeds south to Whiteside and then southwest to Interurban Road. It is close to the Roland Heights subdivision which is presently being developed.

At the same time, Mr. Rice said a commercial subdivision will be developed behind the Tillicum Theatre and north to the railway track. This area will provide a shopping centre for residents in the area, he said.

Crash Near Nelson

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A late-model car plunged off the Nelson-Trail highway a half mile west of here Thursday, injuring seven persons, three seriously.

In hospital are James A. Hutton, 42, of Calgary; Stewart Mason, 32, also of Calgary; G. W. Dolson, 43, of Kelowna, B.C.; Adam Boychuk, 42, and Mrs. Boychuk, Mrs. E. Wakeham and Mrs. Blanche Clark, all of Nelson.

bulldozer and crew back on the job Monday, resuming a ground-clearing job that for 25 days has been held up to permit a nesting wild mallard duck to hatch her brood.

Hirsch said he figures the delay in the construction job, involving the erection of 49 new homes, has cost him about $6,000.

Truckers Enrolled For Driving Course

NANAIMO—More than 200 truck drivers and motorists have enrolled for the highway safety course opened here by Cpl. Joe Shepherd, RCMP, and Robert Swanson, railway department inspector.

Object is to help professional drivers improve themselves in the hope that the driving standard of the general public will improve.

MAX BELL'S COLT BLUE SAIL WILL ENJOY REST AT SEASIDE

DUBLIN (CP)—Blue Sail, unsuccessful Canadian-owned entry in the June 2 Derby, is going to the seaside for a summer holiday as a prelude to a number of autumn engagements, it was learned today.

Blue Sail was scheduled to run in next Wednesday's Irish Derby but trainer Paddy Pendergast said today he has decided to give the colt a rest because of the firm ground. Later this month he will go to Portmarnock, a seaside resort near Dublin.

Blue Sail will then be trained for such autumn races as the Doncaster St. Leger, last of England's classics, and the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe at Paris.

The colt, owned by Max Bell and Frank McMahon of Calgary, finished 10th at Epsom.

On The OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

If you want to feel like Royalty for a couple of days, pack your toothbrush and bucket and take a trip to Qualicum Beach.

Qualicum citizens vie with Qualicum fish in showing hospitality to the visitor. On dry land, citizens and merchants alike appear devoted to the task of providing comfort and recreation for visitors and tourists while on the water, the fish do their level best to make a visit worthwhile.

This reporter and Times Island editor Don Ingham spent a couple of happy days at Qualicum Beach and came back with some nice fish and a healthy desire to get back there as soon as possible.

At present, there is a fine run of coho-size bluebacks off Qualicum Beach as well as a lot of middle-size springs. The blues are running to four, five and even six pounds and can be said, from the way they hit a lure, to be graduated to the coho class.

Unfortunately, the weather this week wasn't everything the Chamber of Commerce would like it to be and some fishing time was lost. There was called "spotty" fishing up there, still looked mighty good to a Victorian.

We were welcomed to Qualicum by Dunc Turner, the "unofficial mayor," and his store was the centre of our operations.

Good Food and Solid Comfort

We were installed in the Crescent Motel, under the motherly eye of Mrs. Fraser George, who must have stood in line twice when they were handing out cooking ability. Her motel, with a magnificent view of the beach and sea, is a mecca for fishermen and tourists, because of its comfort and reasonable rates. Mrs. George will arise at any hour to cook a succulent meal for the angler and even provides vitamin pills for any visitor who looks peaked to her.

We made four fishing trips while there and boated fish on the last two. On the first two trips, the water was rough and while we hooked fish on ultra-light spinning gear and bucktails, we were unable to hold them.

However, on the third and fourth trips, your reporter picked up two springs and two coho on a Mac's Squid plug, two ounces of weight and 35 feet of line. The only personal disappointment was that I was unable to subdue one of those tigerish coho on my spinning gear. A number were hooked on fish fleshed on the surface and three were lost right at the boat as the light tackle was not match for them.

Ingham lost one beautiful spring right alongside the boat when his tackle parted after a fight that would have done credit to the Marciano-Charles Tiff.

Perhaps the most valuable aspect of the trip was meeting and talking to Mike Gorick, the top professional guide in the Qualicum area.

Fish Quake When Mike's Around

Mike is the former assistant pro at Shaughnessy Golf Club. Shot up in the war, he dropped the golf game and devoted his life to catching coho and springs on bucktails. His paying clients, many of them not knowing one end of a rod from the other, catch fish like veterans when they come under Mike's care.

We were fishing by Mike's boat on Wednesday night and saw one of his clients hook and boat, on a fly and 30 feet of line, a muscular 23-pound spring. The fish came charging at the fly like a locomotive, throwing up a wake, but was subdued neatly on a light rod by Mike's tourist customer.

Mike fishes flies to the exclusion of all else. He believes that colors are not too important but that the tail of the fly should be clipped almost flush with the bend of the rear hook to prevent short strikes. He thinks the fly should be watched at all times to catch the swirl before the strike, and he says that fish can be caught at any hour of the day if properly pursued. He uses a spinner with his fly only on a hot, calm day with a flat sea, and does not work his rod.

Mike is anticipating banner fishing in late August and September when the coho will be getting up to the 12 and 15-pound class.

That's when Mike, Dunc, Mrs. George Murray Cree, the fine people at the Shady Rest boathouse, all hope that their wonderful little resort community will be packed with anglers. Better make your reservations early. Those fish might get impatient.

Britain-Belgian Tie In World Cup Soccer

By COLIN FROST

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Belgium sprang a surprise in the world soccer championships Thursday by holding seeded England to a 4-4 tie in a bitterly-contested first-round match which went into extra time.

The Belgians were twice behind after scoring the game's first goal. They trailed 2-1 at halftime and were down 3-1 after 68 minutes but came back to tie the score 3-3 at the end of 90 minutes.

Then, after Nat Lofthouse scored his second goal to put England ahead, 4-3, after two minutes of extra time, the Belgians came back once more to tie it up when England's left-half, Jimmy Dickinson, put the ball into his own goal.

Ewing Winner As Lions Trim Kiwanis

Second-place Lions in the American League pounded out 15 hits off two pitchers to defeat Oak Bay Kiwanis, 17-11, in Little League Baseball action Thursday night at Little League Park.

Brent Ewing went the distance for the mound win, giving up seven hits and 11 walks. Bruce Graham started for the Kiwanis, but went out in favor of Dave Stewart in the fifth.

Gary Wilcox paced the winners' attack with four singles, while Robbie Clark had a double and two singles. Hugh Morrison hit a double and single and Brian Wilson added two singles for Kiwanis.

Line-score and team standings follow:

Lions 400 000 000 0 4 4
Oak Bay Kiwanis 000 000 000 0 0 0
Brent Ewing and Bill Barnes, Robbie Clark (D), Bruce Graham, Dave Stewart (S) and Brian Wilson.

Fletchers Spoil Barry's Return

Fletchers 5, Mayo Lumber 0

Barry Jackson got a rude reception on his return to Victoria Thursday night.

Formerly a member of Arrows of the Senior A Men's Softball League, Jackson appeared in Mayo Lumber livery Thursday and was the mound victim in Fletcher's 5-0 victory at Central Park.

By winning Fletcher's are now in the for second place with Chinese Students, two points out of the lead.

Jackson and Ed Foychuk matched pitch for pitch for five innings, with the latter giving up five hits while Jackson was hurling three-hit ball. But in the last of the sixth after Foychuk had opened by striking out the next four batters singled in succession to score one run. Verne Evans singled for the fifth hit of the inning and scored two runs to give Fletcher's a 3-0 lead.

A walk, two singles and two stolen bases in the last of the eighth produced Fletcher's final two tallies.

GOEGAN GETS THREE

Right-fielder Flori Goegan with three hits, and Evans and Tim Walker with two blows, led the winners at the plate. An oddity of the game was that every hit was a single.

Tonight is the third in the series of "Give-Away Nights" and the feature game between Chinese Students and United Services is an important one. Students can go into a tie for first place, while Services can move into second place with a win. Game time is 6:45.

Short score follows:

Mayo Lumber 000 000 000 0 4 4
Ct. Fletcher 000 000 000 0 0 0
Jackson and D. Stubbs; Foychuk and Wilson.

Nanaimo Trips Foul Bay

Nanaimo tip-toed closer to the Senior B Lacrosse League lead in Nanaimo Thursday night.

Clipping league-leading Foul Bay, 16-12 in a garrison finish. Nanaimo pulled to within two points of the first-place Foul Bay club.

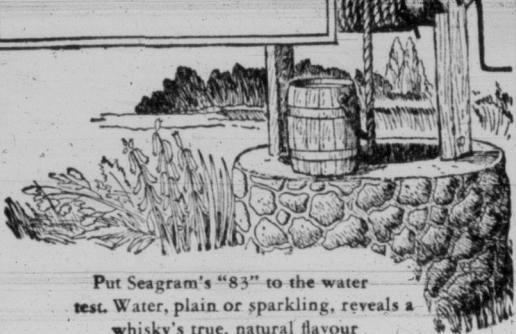

Nanaimo had to unfurl a blistering finishing drive to pick up the victory. With five minutes left in the game, Foul Bay was ahead 4-3 at quarter-time, but Nanaimo Bay held a 12-10 lead. However, Nanaimo ran riot to pump in six goals in the five minutes and sneak off with the 16-12 win.

Goalie Alf Shuker and Tommy White carried the flag for Nanaimo. Shuker made 33 saves during the wide-open game while White turned in a great two-way game.

Foul Bay was ahead 4-3 at quarter-time, but Nanaimo

Caldwell May Compete At Western Saturday

Fan-pleasing Digger Caldwell is scheduled to return to car racing in the Victoria area Saturday night at Western Speedway.

Caldwell, a former fan favorite and champion driver at Langford Speedway, is expected to make the trip up from Seattle and be behind the wheel of a Seattle car when time trials get under way at 7:30.

He roared to consecutive point championships at Langford in 1946-47-48 and 1949 and added extra excitement by crashing through the fence seven times. In 1946 he made clean sweeps in 19 consecutive meets.

Two other American cars, in addition to a full list of local big race cars, should be competing in the meet.

BERRY PICKERS AND GROWERS

The first special buses will leave the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Terminal, 629 Broughton Street, starting at

7.30 SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 19

for the Keating Fruit District (weather permitting), returning at 5.35 to 5.45 p.m. This service will continue during the fruit season.

On Sundays the bus will leave at 9.00 a.m. as occasion demands

Whee! Surfs BLUE!

Saves Bluing... soaking and bleaching, too

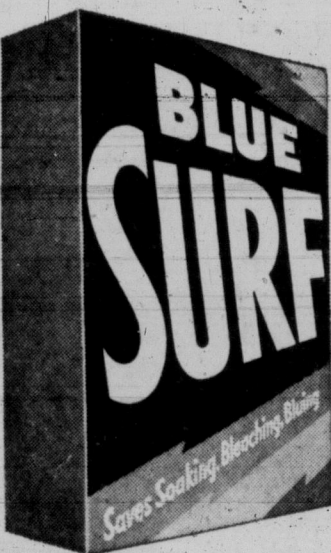

At last a really new kind of blue detergent! A truly scientific detergent with powerful anti-yellowing, anti-graying action that gives you whitest washes ever, without adding a drop of bluing or bleach. Saves soaking, too. Sky-Blue Surf bursts into oceans of white suds that let you just wash and hang up, white!

Yes, it's goodbye and good riddance to three time-wasters—soaking, bleaching and bluing! And "Welcome" to the most dazzling sheets, towels and shirts you've ever laid eyes on. Even old bluejeans and work-clothes come clean clear-through... and sweet-smelling.

Extra money for the piggy bank when you don't need to spend it on bleaches, bluing. Spend less for linens, too. They wear far longer without bleach to weaken fibres. Next washday why work overtime? Take on the greatest time-saving helper yet—new Blue Surf.

Common Cold, 'Flu Hit Canadians Worst

VANCOUVER (CP) — The common cold and influenza accounts for almost half the sickness in Canada, Dr. G. D. W. Cameron, deputy minister of national health, said Thursday.

In an address prepared for delivery before the 87th annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association, Dr. Cameron said a country-wide sickness survey conducted in 1950-51 showed that Canadians are spending about $375,000,000 a year for various kinds of health care insurance.

Dr. Cameron said information collected will allow analyses of some 92 diseases and conditions. Preliminary analysis showed the common cold and influenza represented 43 per cent of the total of all conditions.

About 425,000 Canadians—3 per cent of the population—suffer from chronic disabilities, deformities and amputations. About 100,000 of this number are totally disabled.

NO COMPLAINTS

Dr. Cameron gave this breakdown of illness in terms of persons:

Twenty out of every 100 Canadians experience a complaint-free year; 22 report some disturbance of health, but not sufficiently disabling to interrupt their usual activity; 10 are apparently prevented from such activities but not confined to bed; the remaining 48 are confined to bed either at home or in hospital at some period during the year.

Turning to implications of the survey for the practicing physician, Dr. Cameron said Canadians paid out about $118,000,000 annually—an average of $26 for each family—for physician services and about $70 a family for all health care.

Preliminary findings indicated amounts spent for health care per family "increased with increasing family income, but not with increasing family size. Larger families spent less per person on all items of health care."

TOWERING TREE

The Sitka spruce of British Columbia, largest of several spruce species, sometimes reaches 250 feet high.

WANT ULCERS? SKIP MEALS, SMOKE A LOT AND IT'S A CINCH

VANCOUVER (CP) — A prominent radiologist Thursday advised the Canadian Medical Association that heavy smoking and skipping meals is an encouragement to ulcers. Dr. G. I. Norton, of Vancouver, told the CMA convention here that many persons are under the impression that smoking relaxes them and thereby reduces the chances of getting ulcers.

"That's not true," he said. "Smoking tends to produce hyperacidity in the stomach. The more acidity, the greater the danger of ulcers."

IN VICTORIA IT'S THE BAY...Where You'll Always Find Plenty of SPACE FOR PARKING!

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

At last! The picture's perfect! But it's the wrong Monty! Life is like that.

Assorted thoughts on not emptying the garbage: Wrap me up and call me compost—I'm calm, cool, and uncollected.

It is, however, a long lane that has no garbage cans.

As the grapefruit rind said to the herringbone, "I'm at your disposal."

Or, to put it more accurately, what did the garbage of North Park say to the garbage of South Turner? (It's a long time between stinks—in case you hadn't guessed.)

But I shouldn't attempt levity in such a serious crisis. The question of what to do with garbage during the strike has occupied the minds of the constituents to such an extent I have already been flooded with suggestions.

One comes from "Loyal Reader," who says: "Why not have everyone send his garbage to Between Times, this is all you print, anyway."

I am giving this suggestion serious consideration, but meanwhile feel I should pass on a few others which have come to hand.

For instance: "Just put your garbage in a small parcel. Or larger parcel, if necessary. Get on a bus with the parcel. Get off the bus, forgetting to take the parcel with you."

Or perhaps you prefer this: "Dig a large hole in the ground. If you dig it deep enough, you may strike oil. If you strike oil, you can afford to hire somebody else to get rid of your garbage."

One of the better suggestions is this one: "Take one large meat grinder. Insert garbage in same. Grind garbage into small particles. Place small particles in envelope. Address envelope to mayor. Affix required stamps, and mail."

A more direct approach is this: "As garbage accumulates, place it in spare bedroom. When spare bedroom is full, invite in-laws for visit. When in-laws arrive, sell house. (Do not charge extra for either garbage or in-laws, as this would depress market)."

I trust these suggestions will be of some help. But if they aren't, I'll guarantee this: The garbage problem will disappear if all of us keep our sense of humor.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

The Rotary boys and girls' choir will present a concert in Beacon Hill Park starting at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, June 21, under auspices of the Rotary Club of Victoria. It was announced today.

Emblem flags for the First Esquimalt Scout Troop and the First Esquimalt Cub Pack were presented to leaders Thursday night by C. J. E. Carey, on behalf of the Esquimalt Celebrations Association. The flags will be displayed at the troop and pack's picnic at Saxe Point Park June 25 at 7 p.m. The flags were received by scoutmaster W. Pitt and cubmasters C. H. Cliff and William Seward.

Discussion will be held at the June 30 meeting of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council (TLC-AFL) on a proposal to increase the monthly per capita tax by two cents per member. At the present time members pay the council five cents a month. Over the years the per capita tax has been a highly controversial issue.

Group-Capt. W. F. M. Newson and Group-Capt. S. G. Gowan, both Victorians in the RCAF, are among 10 senior officers selected to attend a course of advanced study in war and security problems at the National Defense College at Kingston, Ont., the defense department reported today. Group-Capt. Newson is senior air staff officer at training command headquarters at Trenton, Ont. Group-Capt. Gowan is director of material procurement at Ottawa headquarters.

Saenich Berries Threatened By Cool Weather

Lack of Rain Adds To Farmer Problem

Cool weather and the lack of rain threatens to damage Saenich strawberry crop, it was learned today from berry growers.

Other berries, such as logans and raspberries, are also feeling the effects of the dry weather and the lack of sunshine, they said.

Growers said the strawberry plants were producing smaller berries because of the lack of rain, while sunshine was needed to ripen the crops.

"Saenich farms are urgently in need of a good soaking," one grower said. "Strawberries which are growing on light soils are feeling the effects of the drought."

SUPREME PRESIDENT of the Anglo-Hellenic Progressive Association, L. J. Lamberson of South Bend, Indiana, will lead the discussions at the large Greek convention to be held at Sirocco Club from June 25 to 27. Over 800 delegates from all parts of Canada and United States are expected to attend the meeting, the largest of its kind ever held in the city.

75% NOW SIGNED UP

C. of C. Group Plan Insures 300 Workers

A group health insurance plan sponsored by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will become effective July 1, with 75 per cent of eligible city firms enrolled. It was announced today.

The plan, described as the most complete welfare coverage offered by any chamber in Canada, will cost within a few cents monthly of other plans with restricted benefits. Coverage will include complete MSA medical benefits; $1,000 life and accidental death insurance, plus dismemberment insurance and out of work benefits due to accident, of $20 weekly.

300 ON ROLL

The coverage will affect approximately 300 persons in various city businesses.

Seventeen major insurance companies in Canada were asked to quote on life insurance and other benefits in conjunction with MSA on a cost basis. The life insurance plan was awarded to Crown Life and other benefits to MSA.

The plan is applicable to small businesses employing from three to 24 persons inclusive. It was brought to study by chamber directors a year ago by the chamber's membership committee.

Active in the campaign for coverage, Tom Denny said today "we feel we have made a bit of a scoop. We have total coverage."

He pointed out that the plan was not encroaching on any other insurable field. The project worked only because the chamber was used as a "collective centre" to enable small firms to get the benefits larger firms now enjoy.

"It's the best plan of its type in Canada," said Hector Crombie, managing secretary of the chamber.

GAS LINE KILLED

plying natural gas to the northwest U.S., plans a 1,466-mile pipeline from gas fields in the San Juan basin of New Mexico and Colorado, to Bellingham, Wash.

The line will cost an estimated $1,000,000,000. Service will be provided communities in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Colorado and Wyoming. The B.C. proposal was first revealed in 1952.

The magic of cheap fuel stirred stock market activity, and resulted in a rush on oil and gas leases in the north.

The B.C. Electric proposed to pipe natural gas across the Strait of Georgia to feed Vancouver Island with completion of the line.

Investors closely watched progress of the two-year-long hearings in Washington. Plans were formulated for secondary industries, using natural gas.

Natural gas would have been combined with wood pulp, to touch off a valuable fibre and plastics industry. Fort St. John and Dawson looked to Edmonton-like expansion.

BCE president A. E. Grauer refused comment on the power commission's ruling.

Westcoast president George McMahon has repeatedly stated that the B.C. market for natural gas is not in itself large enough to warrant construction of the line.

The commission's permission to export Canadian gas to northwest U.S. states was required, to "take advantage of the area's heavy population, and consumption potential."

Pacific Petroleum, one of the largest firms in the Pacific River fields, took a heavy tumble on the eastern stock markets with the first indication of the commission ruling.

Stocks of allied companies also dropped. Pacific Petroleum was $4 at noon.

Labor Board Holds First Meeting

New Board Opposed by Rayment

The Social Credit government has sold out to big business, a top-ranking labor official charged today. Percy Rayment, secretary of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC), said the appointment of the new labor board "bears out my former contention that the government has sold out to big business."

"I can only repeat that the makeup of the Labor Relations Board, with only one labor man on it, confirms my previous statement that Mr. Wicks (the labor minister) has departed from his stated intention of being fair to both sides," he said.

The veteran labor leader also viewed the selection of the new board as "giving point to opinions expressed at the joint labor conference held earlier this year that Mr. Wicks seeks dictatorial power in labor matters."

He was of the opinion also that "the composition of the board as announced cannot possibly inspire confidence of either labor or management."

Another labor official queried on his reactions to the new board said: "They should have fired the government instead of the old board."

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

A pledge of "full financial and moral support" has been given by British Columbia's three most powerful trade unions for unions that get into difficulties under the new Labor Relations Act.

The action, taken by officers of the B.C. Trade Union Congress, the B.C. Federation of Labor and the Standard Railway Brotherhood, followed proclamation of the new labor law Wednesday.

About 150,000 workers are represented by the big unions. R. K. Gervin, secretary of the B.C. TUC, said an executive meeting of the three groups will be held shortly to "consider this monstrous imposition on the trade union movement."

Majority of labor leaders in the province had been outspoken in denunciation of the new act.

VANCOUVER REACTION

Mainland labor leaders added their protests against the new board in statements issued today.

George Home, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labor, said he was "flabbergasted" by the labor minister's action.

"This is the first time in the history of Canada that a provincial labor relations board has been set up without the workers being given the right to nominate who should represent them," he said.

Tom Aisbury, president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, said labor and management previously selected their own representatives but "this way the government does the choosing, ignoring the voice of labor."

Only active trade union man on the new five-member board is C. B. Murdoch of the Street Railwaymen's union. He was appointed by Mr. Wicks, himself a former member of the same union.

"OUT OF BUSINESS"

Mr. Home charges the government intends to put the CCL in B.C. out of business because of its political affiliations. His group officially backs the CCF party.

Accident Not Death Cause, Jury Decides

Death of William Bell Christopher, 76, was attributed to natural causes by a coroner's jury today and not to a minor traffic accident in which he had been hurt June 4.

Mr. Bell died at his home at 70 Obed, June 14.

A pathologist's report to the inquest stated his death was due to a stroke.

The deceased had suffered only a couple of minor cuts when he crashed his bicycle into a truck. The truck, driven by George Trupp, 1241 Mywood, was stopped before the bicycle hit.

Coroner E. C. Hart speculated that illness may have affected Mr. Christopher's abilities just prior to the crash as he apparently rode toward the truck at Tillicum and Selkirk in Esquimalt. The driver stopped when he saw the cyclist heading for him.

Treated at St. Joseph's Hospital, Mr. Christopher was released two days later.

A well-known angler, he had lived here since 1881. He was survived by his wife and one son.

Funeral services were held at McCall Brothers Wednesday.

OUTER-SPACE VISITOR LANDS IN CITY YARD

A United States weather balloon which was released from Tatoosh Island near Capt Flattery early today exploded high over Ross Bay and parachuted to earth a box of high altitude secrets.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ledson, 1802 Hollywood Crescent, will mail the instrument box to Joliet, Illinois according to direction on its side. They watched the parachute land in front of their home.

The white box, about a cube foot in size, came down attached to the remnants of a balloon which must have been about six feet across. Balloon and box were suspended from a red parachute, much smaller than those required for a human descent.

BH Mackie, Victoria weatherman, said that the weather balloons are in general use on both sides of the border. They are used to sound the upper atmosphere for temperature, moisture content and pressure at various levels.

The balloons expand as the air thins and eventually burst; when the parachute takes over. He said the closest U.S. balloon-launchers are at Seattle, but they are also sent up from Port Hardy and Tatoosh Island.

Tuppence' Difference Caused Civic Strike

Two cents an hour was the difference between settlement and strike when the city's wage dispute with its outside workers erupted Wednesday.

Saanich Wants No Garbage From Victoria

A fine of at least $100 faces anyone caught dumping garbage anywhere in Saenich, even in the official municipal dump. This warning came today from a Saenich official in view of the strike which has paralyzed garbage collection in Victoria.

The Saenich official points out it is illegal to dump garbage on roadsides, parks and public and private property in Saenich. It is also illegal to dump garbage at the official dump in the municipality because it is privately owned, he said. The dump is situated on 100-acre property near Prospect Lake and is operated by L. S. McNutt, who has a contract with Saenich council to collect garbage.

"Mr. McNutt will not allow anyone, even Saenich residents, to dispose of their refuse at the dump because of fire hazards," he said.

ASK The TIMES

Q. If a couple were married in Port Angeles, would the marriage become legal in Canada without undergoing another ceremony here? Mrs. T.

A. A marriage performed according to the laws of the State of Washington is legal and binding in Canada. No further ceremony is required. This is generally true of marriages performed in any civilized country, just as marriages performed in Canada are recognized in all civilized countries.

Q. Has the musical, "Oklahoma," ever been put on in Victoria? If so, was it by an American or Canadian company, when was it, and did they give more than one performance? T.Y.

A. The Hammerstein-Rodgers musical show, "Oklahoma," played the Royal Victoria Theatre Dec. 5-10, 1949. It was put on by a U.S. road company, the Theatre Guild National Company. The staging, singing and dancing were highly praised.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times." Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

Saanich Softball League Entries to Close Sunday

Last entries for members in the Saenich Playgrounds Softball League is Sunday, Gerry Dunn, sports director, said today.

Five groups will be formed: girls and boys 17 and under; girls and boys 14 and under; and boys under 12.

Entries should be sent to Gerry Dunn at 309 Montreal (2-6296) or registration may be made with supervisors of playgrounds according to this schedule:

Ottawa Says Bridge Must Open

City workmen may soon be back in the control house of Johnson Street Bridge. Federal Department of Transport has notified B.C. Labor Department that bridge must be kept open during strike under Navigation Waters Act. E. & N. officials raised bridge once Wednesday but had great difficulty doing so. E. & N. superintendent D. C. Hartley talked with union officials Wednesday and subsequently notified City Council that union might be willing to provide operators two hours each morning and two hours each afternoon if asked. Council left decision on this up to city manager. Photo shows striking outside workers and pickets at approach to bridge Thursday. (Times Photo.)

TODAY'S GARDEN HINT

Time at Hand for Smaller Tasks in Garden

The big job of planting the annual and the perennial borders is just about finished, and it is rather satisfying to have time to catch up on several small tasks which have accumulated.

Lupines which have been showing their intriguing blends of color so well in the cloudy days now require the old flower stems to be cut for the seed pods from rapidly. Remove only the flower stems, the leaves will aid in keeping the roots supplied with food.

The bearded iris bed will look like new again if you have the patience to go over each plant, removing the faded blossoms complete with the individual seed pod which will have formed behind each one.

Delphiniums just coming into bloom will respond to a tablespoon of complete fertilizer to each plant, well watered in. Staking may be needed this year, on account of strong winds.

If blooms of fall flowering plants are required for flower shows in September, mark certain plants and thin the stems to the strongest shoots. This applies to perennial aster, phlox and dahila. Remove the stems at ground level, or a little below.

To keep sweet peas producing bloom over many weeks, flowers should be cut every two days. If any are allowed to set seed, the plants will make no further growth, and flowering will cease in as short a period as one week.

Tuberous plants, such as achenes and gesnera beginning to flower in greenhouse or house, like moisture, heat and shade. Provide these three essentials for success, plus a light feeding of any balanced fertilizer.

Our Swimmer Flo Has Big Secret—Her Engagement Perhaps?

Mystery is surrounding the life of Florence Chadwick who will attempt one of the world's toughest swim assignments here in August.

Flo will be the guest of a distinguished Los Angeles couple, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cunningham, at a buffet party June 29. And at that time says she "will make the most important announcement of my life." Speculation is she may announce her engagement to be married. The party will be on the eve of her commencement of training for the Bapco-Times swim to Port Angeles.

Miss Chadwick is due in Victoria July 1 for five weeks of training under Olympic coach Archie McKinnon and Jack Todd before she tackles the turbulent waters of the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Odds against her making the 18-mile stretch of frigid water between Victoria and Port Angeles have changed in recent weeks. "They used to be 10 to one," she told a Portland audience the other day,

"now they're 100 to one, but I'll try anyway."

A recent "gag" picture in The Times showing coaches Archie and Jack standing under a shower, and shivering, at the YMCA drew laughs from Flo.

"Tell them," she says in a letter, "I think they're both sissies and 'puff creams'."

SHOPPING GUIDE

Peaches, Apricots Arrive
For Your Summer Desserts

By PENNY SAVER

Peaches are here! No, I don't mean greenish-yellow peaches, tart to taste, I mean plump, reddish-yellow peaches that are truly ripe. In fact, the red is so red that it's almost wine. How about some peach shortcake for dinner, mother. Hmmm? The peaches will only cost you 25 cents... for two.

Apricots, too, have arrived, so buy them if you wish, at 29 cents a pound. They looked like very nice ones, I might add. Santa Rosa Plums, looking even more delicious than they did last week, are selling at 29 cents a pound, same as last week. Seedless green grapes are 39 cents a pound and cantaloupes, depending upon size are priced from 19 cents to 25 cents each.

I saw some ripe and rosy Bing cherries selling for 25 cents a pound... a considerable price drop! Another big drop is seen in strawberries. Price this week is generally 35 cents a pound. Saw some priced a little higher, but the baskets seemed a little fuller, somehow. Guess you get what you pay for, in this case.

Wow! They're getting generous with the gooseberries. This week they are selling at one penny less than last, 19 cents a pound. Rhubarb is 15 cents for two pounds, and Winesap apples are 25 cents for four.

As for vegetables, corn on the cob has dropped in price. The cobs are now 25 cents for three. Cucumbers are just 19 cents and green peas are 22 cents a pound. Local hothouse green beans are 50 cents a pound, heads of lettuce are 15 cents each and fresh local spinach is 13 cents a pound.

Dad's Strictness Puts Girl in Difficult Spot

By ELIZABETH R. HURLOCK, PhD

It is always better to give reasons than excuses. A young girl writes:

Hurlock

(Q)—"I am 15 years old and have a boy-friend I like very much. I have known him for five months and he is going to give me his ring. My problem is my father. He is very strict. He won't let me have dates with boys, and every time I show any interest in boys he makes me break up. I am allowed to see boys only at school and on Sunday afternoons. This boy I like asks me for dates and I always give him some excuse because I know my father would never allow me to go out. But I can't keep on giving him excuses. What can I do?"

(A)—There are two things. The first is to get things straight with this boy and the second is to get things straight with your father. You can not keep on much longer the way you are going.

First, about the boy. If you have known him for five months and he likes you well enough to be planning to give you his ring, you know him well enough to tell him frankly how things stand with you at home.

Tell him how strict your father is about your dating. Explain that the excuses you have been giving him were just to cover up your embarrassment about not being able to accept his invitations. He will understand. If you don't set things straight with him, you will make him think you do not want to go out with him.

Your problem with your father will be much harder. Explain to your mother that his attitude about your dating is keeping you from having the fun the other girls have, and see if she can make some headway with him.

You may have to compromise at first, going on double or triple dates instead of going out alone with this boy. Many fathers, after hearing and reading about the "wild things" teenagers do, feel as your father does. It takes time to persuade them that you will not do things that are wrong.

North District—Brownies and Guiders gathered at the home of Mrs. E. Piedt last Monday for a campfire and presentation. Mrs. H. Sendey, new district commissioner, spoke of work done by Mrs. Piedt in that office and expressed good wishes for her success as area camp adviser. A Guide and Brownie representing the district presented Mrs. Piedt with a leather briefcase and a nature book. Mrs. H. Winnett, Brown Owl, who is leaving for Ottawa, was presented with a gift from her Brownie pack and her daughter, Jill, with a Brownie pennant. Games were played and wieners and cookies served by mothers of the pack.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Ankles Thick? Here's an Exercise That Will Help

Q—"Please give me just one exercise to reduce my ankles."

A—"This is one of the best. Sit in a chair and place the heels of both feet on the floor, knees stiff. Keep the heels on the floor as you make circles with your toes. Circle for a while in one direction and then in another."

Q—"Is there such a thing as massaging the scalp too vigorously, thus causing the hair to fall out?"

A—"If you use the correct method of massage, I do not see how it could possibly be injurious. However, if you simply rub or scrape your fingertips over the scalp, a little could be most irritating."

Q—"I need a bra under a bathing suit, but I cannot wear one because it shows."

A—"You can get swim suits now with bras built in, or you can buy the separate cups and use those."

Q—"I am 13 years old, 5 feet

1 inch tall and weigh 130 pounds. Am I overweight?"

A—"Yes, you are quite a lot overweight and should lose some of it. Ask your mother to take you to your family doctor and let him guide you."

Q—"I am 16 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 122 pounds. My bust measures 33 inches, waist 25 inches and hips 35 1/2 inches. I know I should lose some weight, but how much?"

A—"Wherever did you get that idea? You are actually a little underweight. Don't you dare lose. Your measurements are wonderful, too."

Q—"I am 13 years old and would be pretty if it weren't for circles. I have only had them since school started last year after a long summer vacation. Could it be the change in sleeping hours that caused this? It puzzles me because I get as much sleep as most of my friends and they do not have circles. I eat the proper foods and drink lots of milk. Please help me."

A—"I imagine it is because you are getting less sleep. People differ in the amount they need. You probably require more than your friends do."

Q—"I am 16 years old. Am I too young to use cosmetic wax? I have a little mustache."

A—"No."

Also attending the conference will be Mr. C. W. Lundy, director of welfare, and Mr. David Woodsworth, director of Family and Children's Service.

Leaves Montreal for England

Miss Phyllis J. Webb, formerly of Victoria, sailed from Montreal for England and Europe last Saturday. On the eve of her departure her publishers entertained at a cocktail party to celebrate publication of her book of verse, "Trio." Miss Webb, daughter of Mrs. Mary Webb, Mitchell Street, was born in Victoria and attended St. Margaret's School and the University of British Columbia. She has been in Montreal for the past three years. Miss Webb will be abroad for an indefinite length of time.

Hostess at the Coffee Hour

Mrs. Percy B. Scurren entertained friends this morning at a coffee party at her home on King George Terrace. Assisting her in receiving guests were her three daughters, Mrs. W. G. Halkett, Mrs. Bernhard Kjekstad and Mrs. Gordon Jennings.

'At Home' on Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. J. Newton were guests at an "at home" given in their honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Mackereith, 3461 Bethune Avenue, last Tuesday, the occasion being their golden wedding anniversary. Present at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. W. Tyson, who were the bridesmaid and best man at the wedding 50 years ago. Many gifts, flowers, telegrams and cards were received by the happy couple. Over 100 guests called to extend their good wishes. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. T. G. Newton, brother of the groom, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. J. Newton, Mrs. R. J. Edwards, New Westminster; Mrs. J. Allen, Mrs. W. Halkett, Mr. and Mrs. J. Boodle, Mrs. W. Priestley and Miss G. Parker, all of Vancouver.

Here for Tuesday Wedding

Mrs. Merrill Knapp arrived from her home in Trumansburg, N.Y., on Thursday to stay with her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Pemberton Road, and to be present at the wedding of Miss Joey Wilson and Mr. Charles Ossulston next Tuesday.

Arriving Sunday is Mr. Gilbert Wilson, a nephew of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, who will fly from Regina to give the bride in marriage. Mr. John Emerson is coming from Vancouver to act as best man.

Mr. Ossulston, the groom-elect, will arrive from San Francisco on Saturday morning.

Other out-of-town guests at the wedding will be Miss Betty Colley and Mrs. Charles Graham of Vancouver.

Honeymoon in Hawaii

Of interest to many friends in Victoria is the marriage last Saturday in Winnipeg of Lois Shirley Huggard, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chalmers Huggard of Winnipeg and Sir Robert Cave-Browne-Cave, son of Lady Cave-Browne-Cave, Vancouver, and the late Sir Clement Charles Cave-Browne-Cave. Sir Robert and his bride are now honeymooning in Los Angeles and Honolulu and will return to live in Vancouver.

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cole, 1704 Hollywood Crescent, held open house on Wednesday to celebrate the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. Married in 1904 in Pontypool, South Wales, Mr. and Mrs. Cole came to Canada in 1911 and settled in Alberta. They retired from the theatre business in 1934, then came to live in Victoria. Telegrams and flowers were received from friends in Alberta and overseas. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Cole, and daughter, Joan, Calgary; Mrs. Reginald Hughes, Bellevue, Alta.; and Miss Marion Hughes, Comox, B.C.

For Marilyn Bacon

Among the many parties planned for Miss Marilyn Bacon, bride-elect, is a buffet supper party honoring her and her fiancé, Mr. Keith Lamont, to take place this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Holder, 220 Vancouver Street. Red roses will centre the table and corsages of roses will be presented to Miss Bacon; her mother, Mrs. Chester Bacon, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. O. H. Lamont. Pink roses will decorate the living room. Guests will be Major and Mrs. S. H. Okell, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Lamont and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bacon.

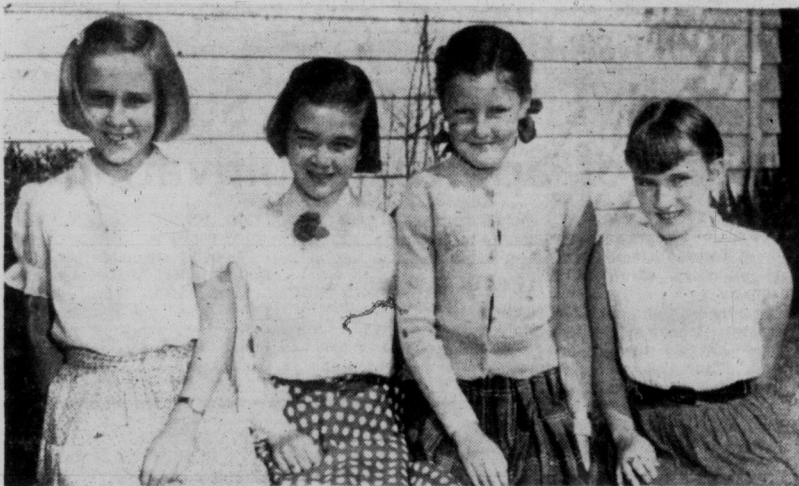

On Sunday, the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. O. H. Lamont, will entertain at tea at Sooke Harbour House. There will be about 30 guests present.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Chester H. Bacon, 2304 Trent Street, will entertain at a trossau tea for her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bacon will be host and hostess at a buffet supper party that evening, when guests will be Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Lamont, Mr. Keith Lamont, Miss Jean Hall and Mrs. Mary Hilliard. A special guest will be Mrs. Douglas Honeyman, who will arrive tomorrow from Winnipeg. The group will attend the symphony concert later in the evening.

For Miss Lindsay

July bride-elect, Miss May Lindsay, was honored at a miscellaneous shower given recently by Mrs. Shirley Weismiller and Miss Jeanne Storey, at the home of the former, 404 Superior Street. Tawney yellow roses formed the bride's corsage and her sister, Mrs. Charles White, received a corsage of red roses. Gifts were presented in a decorated basket. Guests were Mrs. J. Brown, Mrs. H. Bramley, Mrs. Ora Barry, Mrs. Lois Robertson, Mrs. Marie Gibbons, Mrs. Jean Carr, Mrs. Lorraine Russell, Mrs. Helen Brien, Mrs. Marie Smith and Misses Gaye Jacobson, Mary Gard, Norma Boyce, Alice Greene, June Holland, Joan Lowrie, Pam Holford and Leslie Matthews.

Golden Hand Test—Seventy-seven Brownies passed their Golden Hand test in Christ Church Memorial Hall recently. Those receiving highest marks were Maureen Pollock, Susan Barton, Gillian Smith, Susan McMicking, Wendy Dalzell, Jean Watt, Gilly Gerry, Patsy Thompson, Diane Linton, Carolyn Erickson, Gale Oswald and Gladys Newell. Mrs. F. Rawlings and Mrs. R. Scott-Moncrieff kept score. Next test will be held in late October.

New Service Group Formed in the City

What it lacks in numbers it makes up in enthusiasm, this Queen's Royal Order of Girls, formed by Valerie Taylor, Lynne Moore, Bonnie Scott and Shirley Pedersen, left to right. The foursome arranged the first event of the group recently, a garden party at Shirley's home on Beverley Place. They served afternoon tea and sold grab bags, jewelry and dolls' clothes. Lynne was in charge of stalls, and Valerie, gate receipts. Bonnie and Shirley were tea conveners. Proceeds amounted to $5.84 and the group voted to donate $3 to the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Rest of money was kept to build up club funds.

Bride Married at Centennial Church Wears Lovely Ice Blue Satin Gown

Ice blue slipper satin gown, Jacqueline Dawn Poole for her wedding Thursday evening to Lawrence Glen Falconer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Falconer, 1263 Balmoral Avenue. The bride had selected the wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Poole, 3826 Diamond Street, for the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Douglas B. Carr at Centennial United Church.

The bridal dress was fashioned with a full floor-length princess skirt which flared softly into a brief train. The bodice was strapless and topped with a fitted lace jacket buttoned down the front, having a Peter Pan collar and lily point sleeves.

A full-length illusion net veil misted from a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore rhinestone necklace and earrings and carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses and Stephanotis. Her father gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Adele Cordick was matron of honor for her sister, and wore a gown of blue tulle and net with matching net stole and mite. Her headpiece was blue sweet peas and her bouquet pink sweet peas and white carnations. Also attending was another sister, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, wearing pale yellow, and Mrs. Eileen Klee, sister of the groom, in orchid. Both wore sweet pea head-dresses and carried sweet pea and carnation bouquets. The gowns were all made by Mrs. Cordick and Mrs. Poole.

Kenneth Klee was best man and Ernest Poole, Ernest Falconer and Richard Wilson ushered guests to pews marked with white satin ribbon bows. Len Acres provided music for the reception at Loughheed's Banquet Hall, where Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Falconer assisted in receiving guests, the former wearing pink lace over navy taffeta and the latter, blue crepe. Both had pink accessories and pink sweet pea corsages.

A three-tier wedding cake centred the table and was topped with a bride and groom music box. White carnations and pink snapdragons composed the floral arrangements. Taylor proposed a toast to the bride, who later left for a honeymoon in Vancouver and Portland, wearing a two-piece dusty pink suit with white accessories, blue and white shortie coat and corsage of white gladioli. Mr. and Mrs. Falconer will make their home in Victoria.

Wedding guests from Vancouver were Mrs. Tinnmouth and Mrs. A. Simons and from Ucluelet, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Poole.

New Technique for Ancient Craft

Glass bender Harold Spicer, 34, Neon Products of Western Canada employee, has been making neon signs for 10 years. He is shown completing a weld joining three letters to spell "GAS" for an outdoor sign. When finished, air will be withdrawn from the tube and neon gas admitted. Electrodes at tube ends send current through the gas, causing it to glow. (Times Photo.)

Modern Glassblowing in Victoria Nothing Like Inventors Imagined

By A. B. KENT

Glassblowing, a craft older than Christianity, is still being practiced in a modern Victoria shop. But its inventors of 300 B.C. would never recognize it.

Although only a commercial derivation of the ancient art is practiced here, two of the chaps who earn their living at it, making signs for Neon Products of Western Canada Ltd., are not the grey-haired old artisans one might expect.

Harold Spicer, 34, has been bending neon tubing for about 10 years and his apprentice, Don Munro, 24, is just entering his fifth year as a glass bender. They are only two of the 20-odd persons similarly employed in the province.

IT LOOKS EASY

Their trade appears simple enough on first glance, but only after years of practice can a glass bender achieve perfection in his work. I know; I tried it.

Not only must the craftsman be accurate, but quick, or he runs the risk of spoiling the lengths of tubing used in making signs for advertising or lighting units. A whole series of bends in a tube may be done perfectly, then the last may go awry, perhaps melting too much, ruining the rest of the job and wasting time spent in its formation.

The trial bend in a short tube, which Harold showed me how to make, was such a bend. My co-ordination showed me up. In making a bend, however simple or complex, the glass must be constantly rotated in a gas flame while a steady air pressure is maintained in the tube to prevent its collapsing at the heated point. I forgot to blow.

HOW IT'S DONE

SEXTON SEEKS RECRUITS IN BRITAIN

LONDON (CP)—Most Rev. Dr. Harold Sexton, Anglican archbishop of British Columbia, Thursday appealed to British church men to help him in recruiting young men to become "log-cabin parsons" in the Canadian west.

Dr. Sexton, addressing the annual meeting of the British Columbia and Yukon Church Aid Society, said the task of the Anglican Church in Canada is to keep pace with the material development of the country.

"We must grow with the cities; follow the farmers, prospectors, miners and foresters into the remote interior; to be ready and able everywhere to give Christian ministry and social service wherever the need."

JUKES JOLT SIR ERNEST

Canada's 'Mr. Music' Stresses Need of Spiritual Cultivation

By TONY DICKASON

Sir Ernest MacMillan, conductor of Toronto's famed symphony orchestra, doesn't like juke boxes.

"I personally walk out of a restaurant if I hear a juke box playing," he told the Rotary Club here Thursday.

Music today, he told an attentive audience, "perhaps comes too easily," and extensive background music merely filled the role of a narcotic.

"A good thing repays attention."

He said it was "dangerous" to disparage use of the term "highbrow," whether it applied to music appreciation or other arts.

While intellectual snobbery was a "detestable thing," there could hardly be any criticism because man's brow was higher than the ape's, he said.

ENCOURAGE TASTE

Children, he went on, were too often discouraged by parents from "being individual," advocating "let's encourage superior tastes."

Mental and spiritual cultivation should come first, not just the necessity of making a living, he stated.

There was a distinct need in Canada for more public institutions for use of the arts.

The symphony master said an orchestra was not merely to satisfy those who liked symphonic music, but was a public institution, like an art gallery, for "music not heard is dead."

Sir Ernest congratulated Victoria on the orchestra here and on conductor Hans Gruber, saying he was impressed by the "discipline, response and enthusiasm" of the orchestra.

"In fact," he said, "it has much more enthusiasm than some of our orchestras in the so-called 'centres of music'." He said also it was a sound policy to spend available money on improving the orchestra itself, rather than attaching too much importance to importing so-called "big name" performers.

"It is wise to look at the program rather than the performer."

Much of Canada's "tremendous" amount of musical talent was being lost to other countries, not so much due to the money factor but because artists "could do more elsewhere."

There was a lack of artistic outlets in this country.

He expressed a word of thanks to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for the "fine work the CBC is doing by bringing good music to everyone," but urged people to bestir themselves and hear "live" concerts.

"Rout yourselves out," he said, and hear "the real thing."

"Best music listeners were those who made music for themselves, who had made an effort to understand what music meant."

C OF C OFFICIAL SUGGESTS OPEN STORES ON PARADE DAYS

Victoria makes a mistake by staging parades on days when stores are closed, Bernie Cox, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce flower festival committee, said on return from the Portland Rose Festival.

He said it was "foolish" to entice out-of-town visitors here just for a parade and give them nothing else to do.

Holding parades when stores were open has proven valuable in other cities, he said.

Mr. Cox attended the Portland show to gather ideas for a gala spring flower festival planned for here next year.

Holding parades when stores were open would discourage what he called the present apathy of Victoria businessmen toward participating.

Roblin New Tory Leader in Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—Auto-mobile dealer Dufferin Roblin Thursday ended Errick Willis' 18-year reign as leader of the Manitoba Progressive Conservative party. Mr. Roblin celebrated his 37th birthday by winning the leadership on the second ballot in one of the stormiest political conventions in Manitoba history.

The final vote was Roblin 160, Willis 123.

The supporters of Lieut. Col. J. A. Ross, the third contender, swung to Mr. Roblin when Colonel Ross was put out of the running in the first ballot.

The first ballot vote was Willis 118, Roblin 114, Ross 55. Announcement of the final vote was delayed because a key to one of the ballot boxes was lost. Finally, a hacksaw was used to open it.

CALL FOR UNITY

After the result was announced the victor and the defeated called for an immediate return to party unity.

Mr. Willis, called to the platform by Mr. Roblin nodded to the winner and said: "He is my leader."

The Progressive Conservatives are the official opposition in the Manitoba House, holding 12 of the 37 seats. The governing Liberal-Progressives have 32.

Mr. Willis, a 58-year-old lawyer-farmer who has led the Conservatives both in coalition with the Liberal-Progressives and as the opposition party, said he will continue to serve "to the best of my ability."

Mr. Roblin said: "I accept with humility and determination. We have brushed aside all differences and our party is ready to meet the world and do the best for Manitoba."

CREDITS TO PARTY

Colonel Ross told the convention both his opponents in the campaign are credits to the party and appealed to his friends to support the new leader.

Roblin supporters expressed confidence after the first ballot that the Ross support would swing to their man. Mr. Willis knew he had lost. His first words were: "That's the end."

Mr. Roblin is the grandson of Sir R. P. Roblin, premier of Manitoba from 1900 to 1915, first elected to the provincial his Winnipeg South riding in The Winnipeg car-dealer was House in 1949 and returned to last year's election.

The only car in the world to drive
10,000 miles without stopping
... even for gas!

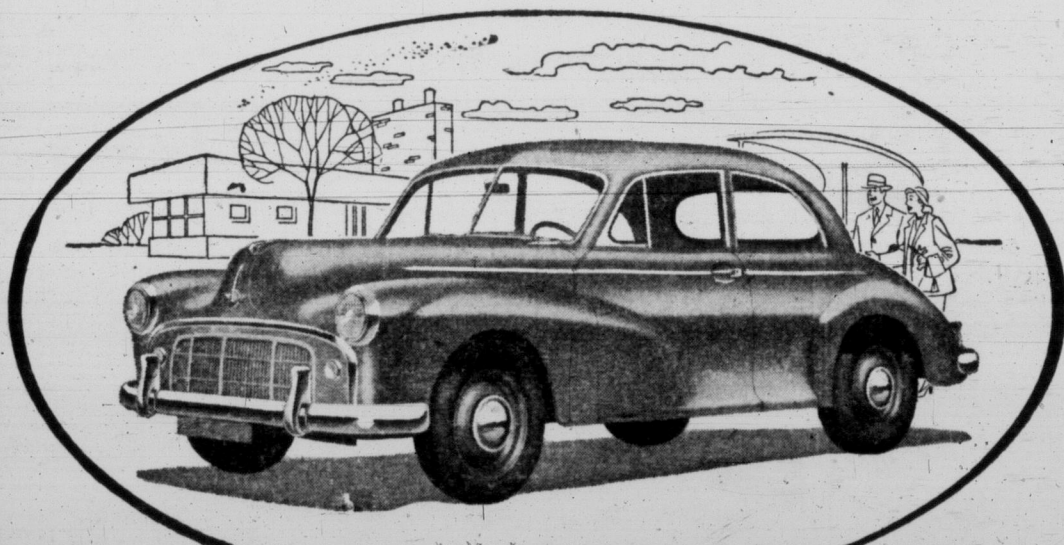

Mobile "service station" was specially built for non-stop test. When car entered mobile station both vehicles synchronized their speeds. Workmen fueled and serviced test car while crews changed.

10,148.3 miles, to be exact... and every mile a gruelling test of endurance. The Morris Minor covered this distance at an average speed of 45.3 miles per hour, and at no time did the wheels stop turning or the engine fail. An ingenious mobile "service station" refueled, re-tired and re-crewed the ever-moving Morris.

During the nine days and eight hours of continuous running on a circular track, the Minor averaged 43 miles per gallon, an amazing feat since the perpetual turning was equivalent to climbing to a height of 66 miles on a road 10,000 miles long. But for this turning strain, gas consumption would have averaged 7 miles more to the gallon.

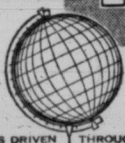

The car was powered with the new high compression OHV (overhead valve) engine. This engine is now standard equipment in all Minors at no sacrifice to gas economy or increase in price.

Your local dealer invites you to drive a Morris... you be the judge.

No License for Car Or Driver; 2 Fines

Eighteen-year-old Terry Doherty, 3295 Glenford, paid two $25 fines in Saanich police court Thursday. He was stopped by police while driving without a license and in a car which had no body and besides the frame and engine boasted only a seat for the driver.

Esquimalt Expands Public Works Staff

40 Employed on $300,000 Road Program;
First Shared-Cost Sewer Job Starts Soon

An intensive public works program now under way in Esquimalt is setting new records for development in that municipality.

Planned expansion is replacing casual growth as evidenced by the clearing and laying of storm and sanitary sewers in Esquimalt's 27-lot Greenwood Avenue subdivision.

The lots will be completely serviced with water, sewers, drains, paved road surface and curb and gutter, before a single lot is sold. Lots will go for about $1,500 according to council estimates.

More workers are employed by the public works department than ever before. There are 40 men engaged in completing the $300,000 road program, installing storm drains in the Colwood Road area and other municipal projects.

$42,000 SEWER JOB

With the start of work in the Forshaw-Shirley area, expected soon, Esquimalt will launch its first local improvement sewer project. It will cost $42,000 and may be a model for similar projects in the Uganda and Parklands area.

Municipal survey crews have been doubled in the face of the summer program, according to municipal engineer John Graeme. He says it is Esquimalt's most ambitious year. Reeve A. C. Wurtel says engineer Graeme is doing a "magnificent job."

At present, work is progressing on Wollaston and Head Streets where curb and gutters are going in between Esquimalt and Dunsuir.

Grading and base coating has been started on Selkirk and Arcadia and there is reconstruction beginning on Dominion Road between Craigflower and Devonshire. Victoria will share costs on the boundary road.

In the Colville Road water housing area major installations of storm drains are well advanced, according to the works department.

Power Pole Accident Costs Motorist $40

Alberta visitor John Myler, 1541 Gladstone, told Magistrate H. C. Hall Thursday that when he snapped off a power pole recently with his car, he had been forced into it by an approaching vehicle. But police said three witnesses saw no other car. He was fined $35 for careless driving. Robert B. Low, 962 Southgate, paid $40 for driving while his license was suspended and Alexander E. Bull, 830 Seymour, paid $7.50 for neglecting to make a hand signal.

Buffalo Bill Cody, who died in 1917, is recorded as having killed 4,820 bison in one period of 18 months.

SAYS VETERAN—

Rotary Idea World Ideal If Applied

The 8,000 Rotary clubs throughout the world with more than 400,000 members are indicative of the general human ideal of service, international co-operation and the desire for mutual understanding, former Rotary international secretary Chesley R. Perry, Chicago, said here today.

"If this is extended to politics and trade, there would be a lot less headaches in the world today," the 51-year-old member of the first Rotary club said.

Rotarians believe, said the Victoria visitor, that the motto, "Service Over Self," meant just that in both business and individual living. Applied on an international scale, nothing but good could result.

CHARTER MEMBER

A Rotarian for 46 years and still a member of the world's first club founded in Chicago in 1905, he became international secretary in 1910 until retirement in 1942. Mr. Perry has been attending a convention in Seattle. It is his third Victoria visit. Previous visits were in 1911 and 1932.

The Chicago club is the world's largest, with 750 members. The Victoria club, he recalled, was organized in 1913 and was the 83th club in the organization.

To date there have been four international Rotary presidents from Canada, and from Victoria two Rotarians had served on the board of directors—Percy Scourrah and Jim Beatty.

NONE IN RUSSIA

Before the iron curtain clanged down, Rotary had clubs in Czechoslovakia, Romania, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria, he said, but there had never been a club organized in Russia.

This was because Rotary members are mostly proprietors, and the Red set-up eliminated this possibility.

One-half of the 8,000 clubs were in Canada and the U.S., with 500 in Latin America. Rotary, he said, embraced all religious and political beliefs so the organization had Pakistan adherents, plus members in India, Japan, Egypt and elsewhere.

At present there are more than 50 clubs in Japan.

Of the organization in which he spent most of his life, Mr. Perry said that Rotarians had proven it could cross national and other lines, and that there had never been any trouble in the free traveling of Rotarians among countries of the world because of ethnic, political or religious differences.

Despite its large membership, Rotary, he believed, had not reached any absorption point, because "towns are becoming cities, and cities are growing." Last year 400 new clubs were formed.

Traffic Infraction First in 42 Years

A 42-year spotless driving record was shattered in Saanich court Thursday when Edward A. Fowle, 3052 Admirals, was fined $25 for failing to wear his glasses when driving, as required by his license. He told Magistrate H. C. Hall that he had been required to rush to a drug store for medicine and had momentarily forgotten. The fine imposed was a minimum.

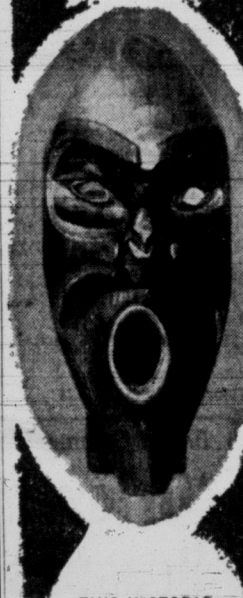

Saanich Driver Fined; Car 'Weaving' on Line

Arrested June 6 when his car was observed weaving across the white line on Quadra Street in the early hours, William J. Lewis, Scott Apartments, was fined $25 in Saanich police court Thursday. Police said they had to swerve to avoid a collision with the accused. Magistrate H. C. Hall delayed sentence last week to give further consideration to the evidence. A report will go forward to the Motor Vehicle Branch, he said.

Transit Workers Vote Result Due Saturday

Results of a secret ballot of members of the Street Railwaymen's Union (AL-TLC) in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster on an offer by the B.C. Electric Railway Company for a 1954 contract will be revealed in Vancouver Saturday morning.

Local members of the SRU started voting early today by secret ballot on the BCE offer. This is being supervised by Joseph Belton, secretary, and Bill Nunn, financial secretary. The ballot boxes will be shipped to Vancouver tonight. The New Westminster vote is already in the hands of Vancouver officials. All will be opened Saturday.

The contract offer recommended for acceptance by the union's advisory board provides for a nine-cent-an-hour pay increase across the board and four additional statutory holidays. The offer also includes a $50 a week guarantee for extra men under certain conditions.

In addition to the across-the-board wage hike, tradesmen have been offered a two-cent hourly differential.

Outside Civic Workers Strike May Be Long

By DAVE STOCK
Times City Hall Reporter

There is every indication the strike of outside civic workers will be lengthy.

Although spokesmen for both sides indicated a willingness to day to meet with the other to discuss the situation, neither appeared ready to make the first move.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, who with

Ald. William Pinfold acted with City Manager Cecil Wyatt as the city's representatives in last-minute bargaining, said this afternoon he was "perfectly willing to meet with the union's representatives at any time; the sooner the better so far as I'm concerned." He said he felt Ald. Pinfold felt the same way.

Ed Duncan, secretary of the striking Civic Employees' Protective Association, said his side was willing to reopen talks as well. It was apparent, however, that neither side was prepared to advance any different terms than they were last Wednesday when negotiations broke down. At that time, the city was prepared to pay five cents an hour increase and the union asked for seven.

GAS FOR 'WAR,' NOT 'CAR,' CROSSWORD PRIZE JUMPS

"You need gasoline to run it." Yes, possibly for a "car" in the sense of the average automobile, but then there are electric cars, trams, trolleys, and all kinds of cars. For that reason the Times crossword puzzle rules that "car" was not the proper answer to definition 23 across in last week's puzzle. What you really do need gasoline for is to run a "war" in this day and age. This was the biggest stickler among a half a dozen posers in the puzzle and no one came up with a correct answer. Full solution is on Page 27, along with puzzle 65, for which the prize jumps to $100.

Britain Rejects U.S. Bid to Search Ships

Co-Operation Promised, However, in Blocking Arms Bound for Guatemala in U.K. Vessels

LONDON (UP)—The Foreign Office said today Britain will refuse to let American warships stop and search British merchant vessels for arms shipments bound for Guatemala.

British refusal was expected to be followed by European-wide rejection of the American proposal intended to prevent gun-running to the central American republic which the United States charges is Communist-tainted.

Britain, while turning down the request, promised to "co-operate to the fullest extent possible" under British and international law in seeking to prevent British ships from carrying arms to Guatemala.

France, Denmark and Norway were expected to take similar positions. West Germany was believed the only nation likely to agree to the American request.

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has received no request from the United States government for the right to search Canadian ships for cargoes of arms, External Affairs Minister Pearson said today.

He was commenting in the Commons on a Washington report that the U.S. has asked for 330 this afternoon to consider the situation was called off by Acting Mayor Frank Mulliner since an expected communication from Labor Minister Lyle Wicks was not received.

Ald. Mulliner, senior alderman, assumed the duties of mayor today as the mayor did not show up at City Hall this morning. His office said the mayor would not be back until Monday. It was subsequently learned the mayor set out from Shoal Harbor this morning aboard his yacht, "Yonder."

In the meantime, here are today's strike developments:

• City manager has written the striking union asking if it is willing to provide a bridge operator to work Johnson Street bridge two hours each morning and afternoon.

• The manager has taken no action on council's motion of Thursday, instructing him to hire outsiders to carry on essential services.

• TLC and CCL labor leaders say if the city does attempt to employ strikebreakers they will take joint protest action.

• There was a minor accident at Johnson Street bridge this morning.

• Labor Minister Lyle Wicks is keeping "mum" on the strike situation.

• TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Armed Guatemalan exiles were reported massing today along their jittery homeland's frontier with Honduras amid indications that this may be D-day for a revolt against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's regime.

The belief stemmed in part from Guatemalan ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla, who said he had received reports that resistance forces would launch a rebellion today against Arbenz.

Reports from censorship-blanketed Guatemala said authorities there were preparing a massive public demonstration today. Observers here interpreted it as a possible move to mobilize pro-Arbenz forces for action in case of a rebellion.

'BEHAVED LIKE ANIMALS'

Sect Leader Mauled in N.Y.

As Mob Seeks $1 Handouts

NEW YORK (AP)—It is no trouble at all to give away money on New York streets.

Five members of a California religious sect touched off a Times Square uproar Thursday when they began handing out $1 bills.

Accompanying the bills was a Biblical reminder that "the love of money is the root of all evil."

Even so, the white-robed members of the religious sect found out, New Yorkers still love the moo-la—and will even fight to get it if necessary.

Hardly had Master Krishna Vanta slipped the first green-back to a startled passerby before he was besieged by a shouting, shoving horde of several hundred money-lovers.

For 10 minutes pedestrian traffic was tied up at Broadway and 42nd Street.

"The people behaved like animals," said the master with a shudder after he had

Mendes-France To Drop Bidault In New Cabinet

Guarantees War's End New French Premier

PARIS (AP)—Pierre Mendes-France today set about organizing a new French government to deliver the Indo-China peace he has promised within a month. But his cabinet apparently will not include Foreign Minister Bidault, France's negotiator at the Geneva conference.

The National Assembly approved Mendes-France as premier early today after the 47-year-old Radical Socialist moderate outlined a three-point program, including a promise that he will reach an Indo-China settlement before July 20 or resign. The vote was 419 to 47, with 154 deputies abstaining.

THREE-POINT PROGRAM

The new premier offered his program as a three-stage project, leading off with the Indo-China peace. With that achieved, he said, he would:

1. Submit a "coherent and detailed program for economic recovery."

2. Attempt to reconcile the divisions within France on the European Defense Community Treaty to rearm West Germans in a European army. Of the six countries involved, France and Italy still must ratify it.

Bidault's absence from the new government appeared certain after his party, Mouvement Republicain Populaire, an-

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson said today he is not planning to return to the Geneva conference as the result of the election of a new French government.

He said he would not take part in Mendes-France's cabinet. The MRP has held the foreign ministry almost continuously since the war. Robert Schuman, like Bidault, a sparkplug of the fight to get EDC ratified, has alternated as foreign minister.

IWA Settles

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Thirty-two thousand coast woodworkers voted today to accept settlement terms in their dispute with lumber operators, assuring there will be no strike in the coast logging industry this year.

George Mitchell, district secretary-treasurer of the International Woodworkers of America, said the IWA voted to accept the terms by a 74 per cent majority vote in a secret ballot.

The union did not ask any general wage hike, but put forth demands for a "package deal" of improved working conditions and union security.

SERIOUS MISHAP

"Had the Duke not shouted his warning there might have been a serious accident, because when the Duke of Gloucester, who was only trotting, came along he had to raise the wire with his hand to ride under it."

Lord Rochester, riding behind the Queen, was quoted as saying: "What a tangle that could have been."

The riding party included the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and the Duke and Duchess of Beaufort. They were guests of the Queen at Windsor Castle. They and the Queen rode over the course an hour before the start of today's racing program.

The Queen—gaily dressed in a yellow silk scarf and tweed riding jacket and wearing fawn jodhpurs, took the whole thing as a joke.

A few hours later she was in the royal box to cheer her colt, Landau, to an easy win in the Rous Memorial Stakes.

REDS ADMIT INVASION OF CAMBODIA AND LAOS

GENEVA (Reuters)—Communist China today admitted for the first time that Communist Viet Minh troops had invaded Laos and Cambodia, the two smaller Indo-China states.

Conference sources said that Chou En-lai, Communist Chinese prime minister and foreign minister, said at today's secret session of the Indo-China conference that during the course of the war foreign troops had been introduced by both sides.

Before today, the Communists had insisted that the fighting in these two states has been between "resistance" armies and the French Union forces.

Duke's Shouts Save Queen

Young Monarch Has Narrow Escape From Riding Into Low-Slung Wire

ASCOT, Eng. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth, riding a swiftly-galloping horse on the Ascot race track, just missed becoming involved in an accident this morning when she ducked at the last moment to avoid a low-hanging wire.

A telephone wire across the track had blown down to head level but was unnoticed when the Queen and other members of her party went for a ride before the start of today's races at Ascot.

The Duke of Edinburgh, riding ahead, saw the wire just in time and shouted to the Queen. She said later she saw the duke duck and did the same, drawing in her horse's reins and dropping low to pass safely under the wire.

"We were nearly all decapitated," the Queen laughed.

The duke, more concerned about his wife, asked her: "Did you hear me shout when I saw that wire?"

DID THE SAME

She smiled and said "I saw you duck and did the same."

The wire was a cable connecting a starting gate with a telephone van. It had sagged overnight.

The Queen laughed and made light of the incident.

Only a few workmen saw the Queen's close call.

F. D. Perkins, who was working on the tote board, gave this version of the incident:

"When the party was cantering back after the first gallop in the morning the Duke suddenly ducked, shouted and looked back to the Queen."

"Then we realized he had spotted the wire."

"The Queen went flat on her horse—as did the other riders who were galloping."

"Had the Duke not shouted his warning there might have been a serious accident, because when the Duke of Gloucester, who was only trotting, came along he had to raise the wire with his hand to ride under it."

Lord Rochester, riding behind the Queen, was quoted as saying: "What a tangle that could have been."

The riding party included the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and the Duke and Duchess of Beaufort. They were guests of the Queen at Windsor Castle. They and the Queen rode over the course an hour before the start of today's racing program.

The Queen—gaily dressed in a yellow silk scarf and tweed riding jacket and wearing fawn jodhpurs, took the whole thing as a joke.

A few hours later she was in the royal box to cheer her colt, Landau, to an easy win in the Rous Memorial Stakes.

Key Northwest Market Given Texas Firm

B.C.'s industrial potential was dealt a crippling blow today with the rejection by the U.S. Federal Power Commission of Westcoast Transmission Co.'s plan for piping natural gas from the Peace River area to B.C. mainland and the Pacific Northwest States.

The commission today authorized Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation to deliver gas to U.S. northwest markets from gas pools in Colorado and New Mexico.

The ruling ended two years of hearings in Washington, and came as a stunning blow to hopes of B.C. government and industrial leaders that Westcoast would get the nod.

There is no possibility, according to Westcoast officials, of bringing cheap natural gas from the Peace River to the lower mainland and Vancouver Island without the vital U.S. northwest market.

SHOCKED

Lands Minister R. E. Sommers and other government leaders, obviously shocked at the announcement, would make no comment. Mr. Sommers said he wanted to "verify" the report by calling Washington.

Earlier this morning, an unofficial report of the commission's rejection of the Westcoast application brought solemn comments from all cabinet ministers.

Education Minister Ray Wiliston said only: "All we can do is hope it is not true."

Premier W. A. C. Bennett was not available for comment.

PGE PROBLEM

Government officials said the commission's decision could have a sweeping effect on the province's plans to extend the Pacific Great Eastern Railway north to the gas fields of Fort St. John and Dawson Creek.

Premier Bennett, in making his decision to extend the line north from Prince George, leaned heavily on approval of the pipeline.

The defeated $130,000,000 natural gas line was expected to have brought B.C. $15,000,000 a year in royalties and rentals.

It would have provided the Pacific Great Eastern Railway two trainloads of butane and propane a day.

In addition, the railway would have received large shipments of pipe, plant materials, and other goods needed for the expansion of the rich Peace River gas fields.

Government leaders had depend on the line's completion to entice eastern business and investment into the province, with the lure of cheap natural gas power.

Premier Bennett has said the line would have brought B.C. "developments greater than anything since the Second World War."

MILLIONS LOST

For Westcoast, the pipeline rejection means the loss of $15,000,000, the amount the firm has spent in exploring the gas fields.

And millions of dollars in industrial expansion potential went down the drain with today's announcement. Major industrial firms planned separation plants in the Peace River area; refineries were on the drawing boards.

PAY FOR RAILROAD

Engineers had predicted the natural gas line would have enabled the PGE to pay for itself within 10 years.

Vote of Confidence To Churchill, Eden

British Commons Supports Geneva Policy, Endorses Sir Winston's Washington Trip

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Conservative Party backers gave him an unusual vote of confidence today, backing patient British policy at Geneva and endorsing his mission to Washington next week.

Conservative members of parliament made the rare gesture of introducing in Commons a motion of support of both Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

The resolution read: "That this House congratulates the Prime Minister and the foreign secretary on their action in journeying to the United States for consultation with the President; records its appreciation of the foreign secretary's tireless efforts at the Geneva conference to secure a just and peaceful settlement of the Far Eastern question; and reiterates its firm belief that close and continued Anglo-American co-operation is essential to the satisfactory solution of world problems."

WAS JUST ANOTHER BUGS BUNNY

Law Grabs Garden-Raiding Pet

Law's long arm nabs "Bugsy."

The long arm of the law descended on a wayward rabbit and its owner was fined in city police court today because "... he did allow a rabbit to run at large."

The charge was laid by neighbours who said the hungry hare was feasting on their vegetable gardens.

In his defense, the bunny-owner told Magistrate H. C. Hall that he had built a proper hutch for the pet, "but the neighbours' children take it out." However, to solve the difficulty, the accused said he was sending the rabbit away today to a home in the country.

A minimum $2.50 fine was imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall under the city Poultry By-law which regulates the keeping of "poultry, rabbits and hares," which might "run at large."

FINAL BULLETINS

Girl-Mother Killed by Stepfather

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—A 14-year-old mother of twins was shot and killed here today by her stepfather, who then killed himself, police reported.

Dead are Lucille Ritchter, who recently gave birth to twins, and Gerald Armstrong, 40, of Keremeos, B.C.

The girl was a ward of the Provincial Welfare Service and was living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wright.

Bars, Drinks With Meals at Pt. Moody

PORT MOODY, B.C. (CP)—Residents of Port Moody have approved cocktail bars and beer and wine with meals by a 347 to 307 vote. Civic officials estimate the plebiscite, held Thursday, cost $100 a vote because of the poor turnout at the polls.

WIL to Carry Spokane for Extra Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Western International Baseball League agreed today to "carry" the Spokane entry for another week to give local fans more time to provide a home for the orphaned Indians.

Robert B. Abel, the WIL president, said the extension was granted at the request of Mayor Arthur Meehan, who heads a "Save Spokane Indians Inc." organization.

Saskatchewan Flood Threat Lessens

KAMSAACK, Sask. (CP)—Levels of the Assiniboine and Whitesand Rivers in the Kamsack district, 150 miles north-east of Regina, had all but stopped rising today, bringing hope for a quick end to a flood which has swept over hundreds of acres in the rich valley farm lands.

A rise of only three-quarters of an inch was reported up to this morning and by noon no further rise had been recorded. The Assiniboine River was dropping north of Kamsack, indicating the peak of the flood had passed.

California Fire Releases Deadly Gas

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—Deadly gas released in a fire which levelled a chemical factory here today left at least nine firemen seriously ill, one in critical condition and may have affected many persons.

The gas is parathion, used in fumigating citrus orchards.

Chapman Scores Dodo in U.S. Open

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (UP)—Former British Amateur champion, Dick Chapman, of Pinehurst, N.C., scored a hole-in-one today at the ninth hole of his second round in the U.S. Open golf championship.

It was the second ace of this year's Open. Johnny Weitzel of Hershey, Pa., scored one yesterday.

Littler Half-Way Leader In U.S. Open Golf Play

SPRINGFIELD, N.J. (AP)—The 1954 U.S. open championship today as defending champion Ben Hogan trailed by two strokes.

Littler's 70-67—139 put him in front of Hogan and Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo., who shared second place with about half the field through the second round.

Hogan, scrambling on the front nine today, shot a round of 36-34—70, even with Baltusrol's par, after an opening round of 71 for a 141 total. Furgol just matched those figures.

U.S. DECISION KILLS ALBERTA-B.C. GAS LINE

Queen Escapes Injury

ASCOT, Eng. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth, riding a swiftly-galloping horse on the Ascot race track, just missed becoming involved in an accident this morning when she ducked at the last moment to avoid a low-hanging wire.

A telephone wire across the track had blown down to head level but was unnoticed when the Queen and other members of her party went for a ride before the start of today's races at Ascot.

The Duke of Edinburgh, riding ahead, saw the wire just in time and shouted to the Queen. She said later she saw the Duke duck and did the same, drawing in her horse's reins and dropping low to pass safely under the wire.

"We were nearly all decapitated," the Queen laughed.

The duke, more concerned about his wife, asked her:

"Did you hear me shout when I saw that wire?"

SHE SMILED AND SAID "I saw you duck and did the same."

The wire was a cable connecting a starting gate with a

Mendes-France To Drop Bidault In New Cabinet

PARIS (AP)—Pierre Mendes-France today set about organizing a new French government to deliver the Indo-China peace he has promised within a month. But his cabinet apparently will not include Foreign Minister Bidault, France's negotiator at the Geneva conference.

The National Assembly approved Mendes-France as premier.

Outside Civic Workers Strike May Be Long

By DAVE STOCK
Times City Hall Reporter

There is every indication the strike of outside civic workers will be lengthy.

Although spokesmen for both sides indicated a willingness to day to meet with the other to discuss the situation, neither appeared ready to make the first move.

Ald. Arthur Dowell, who with Ald. William Pinfold acted with City Manager Cecil Wyatt as the city's representatives in last-minute bargaining, said this afternoon he was "perfectly willing to meet with the union's representatives at any time; the sooner the better so far as I'm concerned." He said he felt Ald. Pinfold felt the same way.

Ed Duncan, secretary of the striking Civic Employees' Protective Association, said his side was willing to reopen talks as well.

It was apparent, however, that neither side was prepared to advance any different terms than they were last Wednesday when negotiations broke down.

At that time, the city was prepared to pay five cents an hour increase and the union asked for seven.

A council meeting scheduled for 3.30 this afternoon to consider the situation was called off by Acting Mayor Frank Mulliner since an expected communication from Labor Minister Lyle Wicks was not received.

Ald. Mulliner, senior alderman, assumed the duties of mayor today as the mayor did not show up at City Hall this morning. His office said the mayor would not be back until Monday. It was subsequently learned the mayor set out from Shoal Harbor this morning aboard his yacht, "Yonder."

In the meantime, here are today's strike developments:

• City manager has written the striking union asking if it is willing to provide a bridge operator to work Johnson Street bridge two hours each morning and afternoon.

• The manager has taken no action on council's motion of Thursday, instructing him to hire outsiders to carry on essential services.

• TLC and CCL labor leaders say if the city does attempt to employ strikebreakers they will take joint protest action.

• There was a minor accident at Johnson Street bridge this morning.

• Labor Minister Lyle Wicks is keeping "mum" on the strike situation.

SHORT-SHIFT BASIS

Mr. Wyatt's move to have regular bridge operators work the Johnson Street span on a short-shift basis was done with council knowledge. Wednesday and today, the bridge was operated by a man provided by the

Texas Firm Given Northwest Market

Premier Bennett said at press-time today that B.C.'s plans for northward extension of Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be unaffected by the adverse U.S. decision on Westcoast Transmission's gas pipe line application.

"The railway will go through," the premier said.

He refused comment on the U.S. Federal Power Board announcement until he had seen "the full transcript."

Reaction of other B.C. cabinet ministers to the U.S. action blocking Westcoast from key Northwest Pacific Coast markets ranged from: "It's incredible" to "it's disastrous."

REDS ADMIT INVASION OF CAMBODIA AND LAOS

GENEVA (Reuters)—Communist China today admitted for the first time that Communist Viet Minh troops had invaded Laos and Cambodia, the two smaller Indo-China states.

Conference sources said that Chou En-lai, Communist Chinese prime minister and foreign minister, said at today's secret session of the Indo-China conference that during the course of the war foreign troops had been introduced by both sides.

Before today, the Communists had insisted that the fighting in these two states has been between "resistance" armies and the French-Union forces.
